Apple Belt Is Hurt by Hailstorm

Farms, Gardens Helped by Rain

A rainstorm which reached heavy intensity for brief periods Monday night brought some relief to area farmers and home gardeners, but also caused an undetermined amount of hail damage in the apple belt.

Rainfall, which accompanied an electrical storm, varied in different parts of the area.

At Brown Station, Ashokan Reservoir, a total of 0.87 inches fell in the 24-hour period which ended at 8 a. m. today, it was reported by New York city's Department of Water Supply, Gas and Electricity. The total at Prattsville in the Schoharie watershed was 0.30 inches in the same period.

THE ULSTER County Farm Bureau said the rain was sufficient to be beneficial to most area farms, which have suffered in the early season dry spell.

Hail was reported in a strip between New Paltz and Clintondale, one of the county's foremost apple sections. No estimate of the amount of damage to the crop has been made.

One grower in the area—M. G. Hurd & Sons—reported the hail was "spotted," with less than five per cent damage to orchards in some sections and up to a possible 75 per cent in other sections.

South of Modena, there was no rain, reports indicated.

LIGHTNING caused minor, scattered power interruptions by blowing transformer fuses in several sections, according to Arthur Buddenhagen, resident manager for Central Hudson Gas and Electric Corporation. A one-hour power interruption at Katsbaan apparently was the longest. Street lights were also out briefly at Rosendale, it was reported.

In Kingston, the Board of Public Works said it received several reports of flooding along the Strand, none of which appeared serious.

One call for the fire department was at 11:02 p. m., to East Strand and Ferry street in the area of the ferry slip where a storm sewer backed some water over the street. The flood condition apparently was not serious.

Priests, Laymen Held

Buenos Aires, Argentina, May 24 (AP)—Argentine police have arrested 11 priests and more than 30 Roman Catholic laymen in the past few days, charging them with distributing pamphlets or demonstrating on behalf of the church in its dispute with the government. Those handling leaflets defending the church were accused of disrespect to President Juan A. Peron. In Argentina this is a felony punishable by imprisonment up to five years.

Temporary officers for the group are Edward Eckert, chairman; Edward Cochrane, secretary-treasurer. Charter memberships are being signed and a Charter Night dinner and dance will be held in the near future. Clifford Every has been chosen chairman of the charter night committee.

Oakley Maynard has been appointed chairman of the nominating committee. Election of a full slate of officers of the new club will be held at its next meeting in the town hall on June 6.

Held for Kicking Patrolman

Man With 3 Felonies Caught in Wild Ride

A New Jersey man, who police said, admitted a record of three previous felonies, was held here last night on two charges after an apparent wild tour in a sedan listed as stolen from Ringwood, N. J.

Louis Mariton Everett, 26, of Ringwood, was booked on a charge of leaving the scene of an accident and was charged with second degree assault for allegedly having struck and kicked one of the officers who picked him up after a complaint that a parked car had been struck.

ANOTHER report last night also indicated that the stolen car had struck another parked car at Walden.

Everett pleaded guilty today before City Judge Raymond J. Mino to the charge of leaving the scene of an accident and was sentenced to 90 days in jail. He waived examination on the charge and was held for the grand jury.

Officers Gilbert Gray and Joseph Kivlan trailed Everett to the Kingston Point area last night after a report that a parked car had been struck near the Delaware Avenue Tavern, 583 Delaware avenue.

A POLICE report said Everett resisted the officers when they caught up with him at Delaware avenue and North street and he is charged with having struck and kicked Officer Gray in the head and face.

A first report of the stolen car was listed on the local police blotter at 3:43 p. m. It said a 1954 Ford sedan, license YY658, N. J., was reported stolen from Ringwood, and was last seen in the Walden area.

A BLOTTER notation at 7:51 p. m., said that Louis Marks of 118 Newkirk avenue, reported that his car had been struck near the Delaware Avenue Tavern by a "hit-and-run" driver.

Marks said someone informed him that the offending car bore a New Jersey license plate. Others from the tavern pursued the car to the Kingston Point area and then notified police, the report said.

OFFICERS GRAY and Kivlan were sent on the chase and soon caught up with Everett. They said he had with him a license issued to Richard Pennings, of 20 East Skyline Drive, Skyline Lake, Midvale, N. J., and the registration number indicated

Neutrality Policy For Germany Is Rejected by U. S.

Washington, May 24 (AP)—Secretary of State Dulles, with special authorization from President Eisenhower, today totally rejected any policy of neutrality for Germany.

Dulles said the stand applies to West Germany and also to a unified Germany which might some day result from bringing together the eastern and western zones.

CLEARING UP uncertainty which resulted from Eisenhower's remarks at a news conference last week, Dulles told reporters today that the West German government has been officially informed of the U. S. view.

He stated the American position to Ambassador Heinz Krekeler last Friday, he said.

Dulles said the United States holds that a policy of neutrality has no application to a country of the character of Germany with its 70 million industrious people, strategic position and power resources.

HE SAID he does not believe that anyone seriously thinks the German people are resigned to play the role of neutrality.

Eisenhower recognized at a news conference Wednesday the existence of speculation about creation of a belt of neutral states between Russia and the west. He emphasized that in the case of Austria this was an armed neutrality and not a military vacuum. That produced much speculation that the United States might envision a neutral role for Germany in connection with prospective negotiations with Russia.

Dulles also said at his news conference.

1. There is no change in the United States policy of supplying military aid to Yugoslavia even though Soviet leaders are to call on Marshal Tito.

2. The mission to Belgrade by Premier Bulganin and party chief Khrushchev is an "humble pilgrimage." This is bound to in-

City Judge Raymond J. Mino of Kingston will be the guest speaker.

Following the cemetery rites, the parade marchers will proceed over the same route north on Route 9W to Legion Court where they will disband.

Again this year the parade and service are being sponsored by the Town of Esopus Post, 1298, American Legion. The parade will be reviewed during the countermarch by the grand marshall, guests and officials at the Port Ewen Firehouse. In the event of inclement weather, the service will be held in the Town of Esopus Audiorium in Port Ewen.

New York, May 24 (AP)—Only 62.2 per cent of 36,273 New York school children scheduled to receive Salk antipolio vaccine yesterday showed up for inoculations.

It was the lowest percentage since the inoculation program began last Thursday.

City Health Commissioner Dr. Leona Baumgartner said the drop was "a direct result of the continuing delays, confusion and indecision on the national level."

$100,000 Verdict Awarded

Bus Service Can Appeal on Damis

A verdict for $100,000, one of the largest verdicts ever returned by an Ulster county jury, was arrived at Monday afternoon by the jury which heard the evidence in the action for $150,000 brought by Miss Mary Damis, 32, against the Adirondack Transit Lines. The jury reported to Justice Hamm in Supreme Court at 5:20 following summations and charge by the court.

Miss Damis was a passenger in a bus of the defendant corporation when the bus overturned on November 10, 1948, as she was en route to her home in Glasco. At the time she worked in a Kingston factory. After the accident she returned to work but suffered "spells" and was compelled to stop work. It was alleged she had suffered permanent injuries which would prevent her from further work.

THE BUS was operated by David E. Kunker who was named a defendant to the action but was not served in the present action. James H. Hyer was attorney for plaintiff with John Scully as trial counsel. Cusack & Shumate was defense counsel.

Following the unanimous verdict by the jury motions to set aside the verdict on the usual grounds and also on the grounds it was excessive were made by defense counsel and denied by the court. Thirty days were granted to appeal and an additional 60 days if an appeal is taken.

A negligence action brought by Mason Aaron Gunn and another against Raymond Laffin and another was taken up for trial. Michael Nardone for plaintiff and Andrew J. Cook, Jr., for defendant.

Polio Head Links Halt To Politics

Doctor Is Irked About Monday

Washington, May 24 (AP)—Dr. Jonas Salk and Basil O'Connor today joined closed-door discussions of government scientists and advisers on the future of the polio vaccine program.

Salk developed the vaccine, and O'Connor is president of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis.

O'Connor asserted yesterday in a speech in New York that "politics" had become involved in the vaccine program.

Salk, who failed to attend the advisory session held here yesterday, told a reporter that Dr. Leonard Scheele, the surgeon general, knows why he (Salk) did not attend.

SALK WOULD not say why he was absent yesterday but volunteered that it was not for the widely reported reason "that I had other commitments." Scheele was not immediately available for comment.

Today's session—a continuation of yesterday's all day and all night meeting—was called by Scheele to draft recommendations as to how soon the nation's polio inoculation program should resume and how far it should go this summer.

It was attended by health service scientists and advisers, the vaccine advisory committee of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, officials of the American Medical Assn. and

Smaller Raise Is Possible

Senate Is Seen Backing Postal Pay Boost Veto

Washington, May 24 (AP)—Sen. Knowland (R.-Calif.) told President Eisenhower today he believes the Senate will sustain the Chief Executive's veto of the bill to increase the pay of about half a million postal workers.

The President vetoed the bill last week. It calls for an average pay hike of 8.6 per cent.

Knowland and other Republican congressional leaders discussed the measure with the President at the Tuesday meeting of the leaders with Eisenhower.

THE POST OFFICE workers may still get a pay boost somewhat smaller than the one averaging over 8½ per cent which the President vetoed. Present pay scales were fixed in 1951.

Should the Senate upset predictions and vote to override the veto, the House would still have to come through with the same two-thirds majority. A Senate vote to sustain the veto would make it unnecessary for the House to act.

DEMOCRATIC leaders expected practically all of their 49 members to be on hand and ready to vote to override.

However, there are only 49 Democrats and if all of them voted for the bill, it would be necessary to get 15 of the 47 Republicans to pass the measure over the President's objections, assuming a full attendance.

REPUBLICAN leaders said they were certain far fewer than 15 GOP Senators would desert the President, and they expected to pick up two or three Democratic votes.

GOP senators, it was learned, were being told they should vote to sustain the veto if they want

Conference Set On Preliminaries In Parking Survey

A next step in furtherance of the city's proposed survey for off-street parking will be a preliminary conference with a representation of the Automobile Club of New York, and a local group or designated person, Mayor Frederick H. Stang said today.

The mayor yesterday acknowledged the club's letter of May 19 in which Charles J. Murphy, the club's traffic engineering department, Madison avenue at 78th street, New York, suggestion appointment of a person to act as liaison agent in proceeding with the study.

MAYOR STANG said yesterday that his office would act as liaison, and he wrote: "This office will be pleased to cooperate to the fullest extent and act as a liaison between your organization and the various city departments that may become involved."

The mayor suggested "a preliminary conference as soon as possible so that the agenda can be prepared and the survey can proceed with the utmost dispatch."

MURPHY TOLD members of the Central Business Men's Association here earlier in the month that the club would cooperate in the survey, and the Chamber of Commerce suggested quick action.

Murphy's letter to the mayor noted that "As I mentioned at the dinner meeting, this must be a joint project if an effective program is to be produced."

THE LETTER noted that "We are in a position to provide technical assistance and supervision, and we feel sure that you will solicit the full cooperation of your city engineer, chief of police, city assessor and your traffic and parking committee in obtaining the necessary details such as land costs, maps, land surveys, where required, and similar basic data which is re-

Leniency Shown In Phone Case

Poughkeepsie, May 24 (AP)—Following a leniency plea from the district attorney, a judge today gave a suspended sentence to Mrs. Mary L. Kayes for her refusal to yield a party telephone line for a fire report.

She could have been sentenced to a year in jail and fined $500.

Afterward, the 43-year-old mother of four jubilantly told reporters "I hold no grudges against anyone."

"I HOPE THAT this case has served its purpose of bringing everyone's attention to the new law," she said.

County Judge John R. Schwartz said he was motivated by various considerations.

Among other things, he said, she finally did alert the operator after first refusing to give up the party line for a grass fire report by Fire Warden Donald Townsend.

Also, the judge said, he believed that a barn which caught fire would have been destroyed anyhow.

FBI Report Favors Kingston

Less Crime Here Than In Average U. S. City

New York, May 24 (Special)—The residents of Kingston proved to be more law-abiding in the past year than did those in most communities in the United States.

This finding is based on the uniformed crime reports of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, comprising data gathered from police departments throughout the country.

A total of 192 crimes was handled by Kingston police during the year. On the basis of local population, this amounted to 660 offenses per 100,000 people and was much better than the rate of 1,900 per 100,000 recorded for the other cities in the United States having populations over 25,000.

The local rate stood up well, also, in comparison with that for all cities, large and small. They averaged 1,846 crimes per 100,000.

The trend in crime is brought out by a breakdown of the statistics. It shows, for Kingston, a predominance of larcenies, with 121 reported. The other totals were: burglaries, 57, auto thefts, 9, robberies, none, assaults, 4, and murders, one.

The past year, according to the FBI, was the seventh in a row in which there was an increase in the amount of crime in the country. The rise was five percent over 1953. Only a part of it can be attributed to an increase in population. The figures show that crime has been going up four times as fast as population, according to the FBI.

Especially marked, it continues, is the situation in rural areas where the crime rate rose 8.3 per cent last year as compared with 4.0 per cent in urban sections.

Changes in Unemployment Insurance Law Outlined

Changes in the unemployment insurance law which affect all of the 180,000 employers and 6,250,000 employes now covered by the law have been summarized in timetable form by Industrial Commissioner Isador Lubin and released through the local office of the State Department of Labor's Division of Employment.

Effective dates of the principal changes liberalizing the program for large numbers of wage-earners are:

April 25, 1955—Weekly earnings limit for partially employed persons who have less than four days work a week was raised from $30 to $36. This means that claimants who have less than four days work a week can qualify for partial unemployment benefits if they earn $36 or less.

July 4, 1955—Maximum benefit rate raised from $30 to $36 for new claimants starting benefit years on this date. The maximum benefit is available to claimants whose average wage prior to unemployment was $70 a week or more. The minimum benefit remains at $10 a week

Conference Set On Preliminaries In Parking Survey

A next step in furtherance of the city's proposed survey for off-street parking will be a preliminary conference with a representation of the Automobile Club of New York, and a local group or designated person, Mayor Frederick H. Stang said today.

The mayor yesterday acknowledged the club's letter of May 19 in which Charles J. Murphy, the club's traffic engineering department, Madison avenue at 78th street, New York, suggestion appointment of a person to act as liaison agent in proceeding with the study.

MAYOR STANG said yesterday that his office would act as liaison, and he wrote: "This office will be pleased to cooperate to the fullest extent and act as a liaison between your organization and the various city departments that may become involved."

The mayor suggested "a preliminary conference as soon as possible so that the agenda can be prepared and the survey can proceed with the utmost dispatch."

MURPHY TOLD members of the Central Business Men's Association here earlier in the month that the club would cooperate in the survey, and the Chamber of Commerce suggested quick action.

Murphy's letter to the mayor noted that "As I mentioned at the dinner meeting, this must be a joint project if an effective program is to be produced."

THE LETTER noted that "We are in a position to provide technical assistance and supervision, and we feel sure that you will solicit the full cooperation of your city engineer, chief of police, city assessor and your traffic and parking committee in obtaining the necessary details such as land costs, maps, land surveys, where required, and similar basic data which is re-

Polio Head Links Halt To Politics

Doctor Is Irked About Monday

Washington, May 24 (AP)—Dr. Jonas Salk and Basil O'Connor today joined closed-door discussions of government scientists and advisers on the future of the polio vaccine program.

Salk developed the vaccine, and O'Connor is president of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis.

O'Connor asserted yesterday in a speech in New York that "politics" had become involved in the vaccine program.

Salk, who failed to attend the advisory session held here yesterday, told a reporter that Dr. Leonard Scheele, the surgeon general, knows why he (Salk) did not attend.

SALK WOULD not say why he was absent yesterday but volunteered that it was not for the widely reported reason "that I had other commitments." Scheele was not immediately available for comment.

Today's session—a continuation of yesterday's all day and all night meeting—was called by Scheele to draft recommendations as to how soon the nation's polio inoculation program should resume and how far it should go this summer.

It was attended by health service scientists and advisers, the vaccine advisory committee of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, officials of the American Medical Assn. and

Leniency Shown In Phone Case

Poughkeepsie, May 24 (AP)—Following a leniency plea from the district attorney, a judge today gave a suspended sentence to Mrs. Mary L. Kayes for her refusal to yield a party telephone line for a fire report.

She could have been sentenced to a year in jail and fined $500.

Afterward, the 43-year-old mother of four jubilantly told reporters "I hold no grudges against anyone."

"I HOPE THAT this case has served its purpose of bringing everyone's attention to the new law," she said.

County Judge John R. Schwartz said he was motivated by various considerations.

Among other things, he said, she finally did alert the operator after first refusing to give up the party line for a grass fire report by Fire Warden Donald Townsend.

Also, the judge said, he believed that a barn which caught fire would have been destroyed anyhow.

FBI Report Favors Kingston

Less Crime Here Than In Average U. S. City

New York, May 24 (Special)—The residents of Kingston proved to be more law-abiding in the past year than did those in most communities in the United States.

This finding is based on the uniformed crime reports of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, comprising data gathered from police departments throughout the country.

A total of 192 crimes was handled by Kingston police during the year. On the basis of local population, this amounted to 660 offenses per 100,000 people and was much better than the rate of 1,900 per 100,000 recorded for the other cities in the United States having populations over 25,000.

The local rate stood up well, also, in comparison with that for all cities, large and small. They averaged 1,846 crimes per 100,000.

The trend in crime is brought out by a breakdown of the statistics. It shows, for Kingston, a predominance of larcenies, with 121 reported. The other totals were: burglaries, 57, auto thefts, 9, robberies, none, assaults, 4, and murders, one.

The past year, according to the FBI, was the seventh in a row in which there was an increase in the amount of crime in the country. The rise was five percent over 1953. Only a part of it can be attributed to an increase in population. The figures show that crime has been going up four times as fast as population, according to the FBI.

Especially marked, it continues, is the situation in rural areas where the crime rate rose 8.3 per cent last year as compared with 4.0 per cent in urban sections.

Changes in Unemployment Insurance Law Outlined

Changes in the unemployment insurance law which affect all of the 180,000 employers and 6,250,000 employes now covered by the law have been summarized in timetable form by Industrial Commissioner Isador Lubin and released through the local office of the State Department of Labor's Division of Employment.

Effective dates of the principal changes liberalizing the program for large numbers of wage-earners are:

April 25, 1955—Weekly earnings limit for partially employed persons who have less than four days work a week was raised from $30 to $36. This means that claimants who have less than four days work a week can qualify for partial unemployment benefits if they earn $36 or less.

July 4, 1955—Maximum benefit rate raised from $30 to $36 for new claimants starting benefit years on this date. The maximum benefit is available to claimants whose average wage prior to unemployment was $70 a week or more. The minimum benefit remains at $10 a week

Conant Expresses West Concern on German Defense

Duesseldorf, Germany, May 24 (AP)—U. S. Ambassador James B. Conant warned the Germans today a united, neutral Germany would be unable to defend itself against the Russians even if it were armed.

"The idea that a country like Germany, which has no natural boundaries at all, could defend itself alone outside a European defense system simply ignores the new military realities," Conant told a German audience.

"A SINGLE NATION which is not protected by any alliance cannot protect itself so long as the present threat from the east exists.

"And fine words alone cannot convince us that such a threat no longer exists. Fine words must be followed by deeds before we are convinced of their honesty."

Conant's warning reflected the concern of western officials and West German leaders over the Russian campaign to neutralize a United Germany along the lines of the recent Big Four agreement on Austria.

CHANCELLOR Konrad Adenauer's four-party government and the opposition Socialists agree such a solution for Germany cannot be considered by the west at a Big Four meeting.

Conant promised that the United States, supported by Britain, France and the Adenauer government, will use all its influence to see German reunification in peace and freedom is achieved as soon as possible.

County Offices To Close Saturday Starting June 4

Virtually all of the county office employes will go on a year-around five-day work week starting Saturday, June 4, due to action of the 1955 state Legislature.

All county offices, with the exception of the criminal branch of the sheriff's office, will close beginning June 1. The same ruling applies to the Ulster County Surrogate's Court, according to Surrogate John B. Sterley.

THE NEW five-day work week is the result of an amendment to Chapter 692 of the County Law by the 1955 Legislature.

In prior years, Saturday closings were in order by action of the board of supervisors but the new ruling makes its mandatory that public offices be closed on Saturdays, effective June 4.

The law, as amended this year, provides that the Motor Vehicle Bureau office may remain open on Saturday mornings during January for issuance of new automobile licenses.

ALSO PROVIDED under the new law is that any legal document of instrument which may call for a Saturday recording shall be considered legally recorded or filed on the following Monday. This provision is in accord with the former provision relating to such instruments where the final date fell on a legal holiday or on Sunday.

Notices have been posted at all Ulster county offices informing the public that as of June 4 they will be closed on Saturday.

The Surrogate's Court, meanwhile, will be open for business from 9 a. m. to 5 p. m., Monday through Friday, except during July and August, when the hours will be from 9 a. m. to 4 p. m.

Garment Maker Tells of Making $6,699 Payoffs

Washington, May 24 (AP)—A New York garment manufacturer testified today he spent $6,699.94 in cash payoffs and gifts to government employes involved in three contracts he carried out for the armed forces in 1952 and 1953.

LEVY SAID most of the money went to:

Maj. Eric C. Farnell, former chief of the clothing branch of the Army Quartermaster Corps in New York.

Financial and Commercial

New York, May 24 (AP)—Aircrafts were out in front today in a higher stock market.

Prices in the early afternoon were up around 2 points at the best. Losses usually were small.

TRADING WAS quite light at a pace that didn't even match yesterday's 1,900,000 shares when the market was lower.

The market appeared ready to advance at the opening, but then it sagged instead. Within a relatively short time, prices perked up all around under the influence of the aircrafts.

In the van of the aircraft push ahead were companies high on the list of those getting the greatest benefit from government defense spending.

AMONG HIGHER stocks were Republic Aviation, Boeing, Douglas, United Aircraft, North American Aviation, General Dynamics, Bethlehem Steel, Chrysler, Mack Trucks, Zenith Radio, duPont, General Mills, New York Central, Northern Pacific, American Airlines and General Electric.

Salk, O'Connor

of the State and Territorial Health Officers Assn.

IN YESTERDAY'S speech in New York, O'Connor stressed his faith in the vaccine. He spoke of "National and State Politics" as complicating factors in the situation. He also mentioned supply, demand and "economic factors of competition" as being involved.

Later, O'Connor demanded that the government "release immediately" the results of its study of polio vaccine made by Cutter Laboratories, Berkeley, Calif.

In the light of O'Connor's demand, a reporter asked the National Institutes of Health (NIH) whether conclusions had been reached on the re-testing of the Cutter vaccine. An NIH spokesman said he did not know but did not think so.

THE SPOKESMAN said the Cutter vaccine was recalled from use April 27 and that testing began around May 1. Normally, tests on live monkeys run 28 days, he noted, adding that presumably the testing is incomplete unless "shorter methods of testing have been introduced by the scientists of which I am unaware."

The spokesman also said that the NIH, in addition to running its own tests, had ordered "blind tests" from "other laboratories." In the "blind tests," he explained, the laboratories are testing Cutter and other vaccines without knowing which of the samples was made by Cutter.

In its daily report on confirmed cases of polio among persons inoculated with the Salk vaccine, the Health Service said there was a weekend rise of 9 to a total of 88.

Among the new cases was the first in a person who had received vaccine made by Parke, Davis & Co., Detroit.

OTHER post-inoculation cases had received Cutter vaccine in 60 instances; tha of Eli Lilly Co., Indianapolis in 19, and that of Wyeth Laboratories, Mirietta, Pa., in 8.

About six million children have been inoculated.

The 88 confirmed post-inoculation cases compare with a nationwide provisional total of 602 cases listed between April 10 and May 14.

It was the occurrence of the disease among children inoculated with vaccine made by Cutter and other drug firms that led to suspension of the mass immunization program over two weeks ago to permit safety doublechecks. All Cutter vaccine has been withdrawn from use for nearly a month pending special analysis. Of 79 post-inoculation cases so far confirmed, 59 have been among children who were injected with Cutter vaccine.

SCHEELE DECLINED to comment on O'Connor's demand. However, a public health service spokesman said "we have preliminary information but no final report" on the Cutter study.

Members of the National Foundation's Vaccine Committee were among those summoned by Scheele. Also called to today's meeting were officers of the American Medical Assn., representatives of the Assn. of State and Territorial Health Officers. Technical specialists from the six pharmaceutical firms licensed to make the vaccine, and government scientists.

This conference, coupled with yesterday's day-and-night meeting of the government's medical advisers on polio vaccine matters, indicated decisions of major importance might be in the offing.

In their closed-door deliberations at the National Institutes of Health, the scientists were trying to determine whether any changes should be made in vaccine manufacturing and testing standards. They also were said to be trying to judge what bearing such changes might have on vaccine for the summer ahead—the peak of the polio season.

Police Chief Gives Warning on Refrigerators

Police Chief Raymond VanBuren today issued a reminder that the city has an ordinance prohibiting abandonment or storing of refrigerators in any areas on a premises where they are accessible to children.

The statement came after recent reports that refrigerators, with doors still on, had been left where they might be reached by children. If they are to be abandoned or temporarily stored where they could be reached by children, the ordinance says, doors must be removed.

Kingston, like other communities of the nation, adopted an ordinance against the leaving of refrigerators in yards or other accessible areas, after reports within the past two or three years of children suffocating in refrigerators after locking themselves inside.

Henry Van Steenburg, local dog warden, yesterday notified police headquarters at 5:54 p. m. that a truck had left a few "ice boxes" in an area between the Maple Block Co., and ice plant in the Deyo street section.

Officers Benjamin Osterhoudt and Michael Mazzuca were assigned to check, and reported that the land on which the boxes had been left was leased, and the owner of the property would make sure that all the doors would be removed.

Police were asked to check a few days ago on another report that a single refrigerator had been left in a yard, where it was accessible to children. The door was removed.

Conant Expresses West Concern on German Defense

Duesseldorf, Germany, May 24 (AP)—U. S. Ambassador James B. Conant warned the Germans today a united, neutral Germany would be unable to defend itself against the Russians even if it were armed.

"The idea that a country like Germany, which has no natural boundaries at all, could defend itself alone outside a European defense system simply ignores the new military realities," Conant told a German audience.

"A SINGLE NATION which is not protected by any alliance cannot protect itself so long as the present threat from the east exists.

"And fine words alone cannot convince us that such a threat no longer exists. Fine words must be followed by deeds before we are convinced of their honesty."

Conant's warning reflected the concern of western officials and West German leaders over the Russian campaign to neutralize a United Germany along the lines of the recent Big Four agreement on Austria.

CHANCELLOR Konrad Adenauer's four-party government and the opposition Socialists agree such a solution for Germany cannot be considered by the west at a Big Four meeting.

Conant promised that the United States, supported by Britain, France and the Adenauer government, will use all its influence to see German reunification in peace and freedom is achieved as soon as possible.

County Offices To Close Saturday Starting June 4

Virtually all of the county office employes will go on a year-around five-day work week starting Saturday, June 4, due to action of the 1955 state Legislature.

All county offices, with the exception of the criminal branch of the sheriff's office, will close beginning June 1. The same ruling applies to the Ulster County Surrogate's Court, according to Surrogate John B. Sterley.

THE NEW five-day work week is the result of an amendment to Chapter 692 of the County Law by the 1955 Legislature.

In prior years, Saturday closings were in order by action of the board of supervisors but the new ruling makes its mandatory that public offices be closed on Saturdays, effective June 4.

The law, as amended this year, provides that the Motor Vehicle Bureau office may remain open on Saturday mornings during January for issuance of new automobile licenses.

ALSO PROVIDED under the new law is that any legal document of instrument which may call for a Saturday recording shall be considered legally recorded or filed on the following Monday. This provision is in accord with the former provision relating to such instruments where the final date fell on a legal holiday or on Sunday.

Notices have been posted at all Ulster county offices informing the public that as of June 4 they will be closed on Saturday.

The Surrogate's Court, meanwhile, will be open for business from 9 a. m. to 5 p. m., Monday through Friday, except during July and August, when the hours will be from 9 a. m. to 4 p. m.

Directory Being Prepared by Kingston C of C

Preparation of the new classified membership director was started today by the Kingston Area Chamber of Commerce in which all active members as of June 1 will be listed.

The directory was published for the first time in 1954 as a direct membership service. Over 2,500 copies of the 1954-55 directory were distributed to members and in answer to individual inquiries about local sources of goods and services.

In making this announcement today Albert Kurdt, executive-secretary of the chamber stated that as many classification headings as necessary will be included to make the directory as practical and useful as possible. Every effort will be made to have the new directory available for distribution by mid-June, for use by the many new residents coming into the area, Kurdt concluded.

Judge Gets Evidence

Memphis, Tenn. (AP)—Charles Jones, charged with speeding 39 miles an hour, told Traffic Judge Beverly Boushe his old truck just wouldn't go that fast. Boushe took Jones' truck out for a trial run and finally managed to get it to equal the city's 30-mile speed limit—going down hill. Case dismissed.

Financial and Commercial

New York, May 24 (AP)—Aircrafts were out in front today in a higher stock market.

Prices in the early afternoon were up around 2 points at the best. Losses usually were small.

TRADING WAS quite light at a pace that didn't even match yesterday's 1,900,000 shares when the market was lower.

The market appeared ready to advance at the opening, but then it sagged instead. Within a relatively short time, prices perked up all around under the influence of the aircrafts.

In the van of the aircraft push ahead were companies high on the list of those getting the greatest benefit from government defense spending.

AMONG HIGHER stocks were Republic Aviation, Boeing, Douglas, United Aircraft, North American Aviation, General Dynamics, Bethlehem Steel, Chrysler, Mack Trucks, Zenith Radio, duPont, General Mills, New York Central, Northern Pacific, American Airlines and General Electric.

Salk, O'Connor

of the State and Territorial Health Officers Assn.

IN YESTERDAY'S speech in New York, O'Connor stressed his faith in the vaccine. He spoke of "National and State Politics" as complicating factors in the situation. He also mentioned supply, demand and "economic factors of competition" as being involved.

Later, O'Connor demanded that the government "release immediately" the results of its study of polio vaccine made by Cutter Laboratories, Berkeley, Calif.

In the light of O'Connor's demand, a reporter asked the National Institutes of Health (NIH) whether conclusions had been reached on the re-testing of the Cutter vaccine. An NIH spokesman said he did not know but did not think so.

THE SPOKESMAN said the Cutter vaccine was recalled from use April 27 and that testing began around May 1. Normally, tests on live monkeys run 28 days, he noted, adding that presumably the testing is incomplete unless "shorter methods of testing have been introduced by the scientists of which I am unaware."

The spokesman also said that the NIH, in addition to running its own tests, had ordered "blind tests" from "other laboratories." In the "blind tests," he explained, the laboratories are testing Cutter and other vaccines without knowing which of the samples was made by Cutter.

In its daily report on confirmed cases of polio among persons inoculated with the Salk vaccine, the Health Service said there was a weekend rise of 9 to a total of 88.

Among the new cases was the first in a person who had received vaccine made by Parke, Davis & Co., Detroit.

OTHER post-inoculation cases had received Cutter vaccine in 60 instances; tha of Eli Lilly Co., Indianapolis in 19, and that of Wyeth Laboratories, Mirietta, Pa., in 8.

About six million children have been inoculated.

The 88 confirmed post-inoculation cases compare with a nationwide provisional total of 602 cases listed between April 10 and May 14.

It was the occurrence of the disease among children inoculated with vaccine made by Cutter and other drug firms that led to suspension of the mass immunization program over two weeks ago to permit safety doublechecks. All Cutter vaccine has been withdrawn from use for nearly a month pending special analysis. Of 79 post-inoculation cases so far confirmed, 59 have been among children who were injected with Cutter vaccine.

SCHEELE DECLINED to comment on O'Connor's demand. However, a public health service spokesman said "we have preliminary information but no final report" on the Cutter study.

Members of the National Foundation's Vaccine Committee were among those summoned by Scheele. Also called to today's meeting were officers of the American Medical Assn., representatives of the Assn. of State and Territorial Health Officers. Technical specialists from the six pharmaceutical firms licensed to make the vaccine, and government scientists.

This conference, coupled with yesterday's day-and-night meeting of the government's medical advisers on polio vaccine matters, indicated decisions of major importance might be in the offing.

In their closed-door deliberations at the National Institutes of Health, the scientists were trying to determine whether any changes should be made in vaccine manufacturing and testing standards. They also were said to be trying to judge what bearing such changes might have on vaccine for the summer ahead—the peak of the polio season.

Police Chief Gives Warning on Refrigerators

Police Chief Raymond VanBuren today issued a reminder that the city has an ordinance prohibiting abandonment or storing of refrigerators in any areas on a premises where they are accessible to children.

The statement came after recent reports that refrigerators, with doors still on, had been left where they might be reached by children. If they are to be abandoned or temporarily stored where they could be reached by children, the ordinance says, doors must be removed.

Kingston, like other communities of the nation, adopted an ordinance against the leaving of refrigerators in yards or other accessible areas, after reports within the past two or three years of children suffocating in refrigerators after locking themselves inside.

Henry Van Steenburg, local dog warden, yesterday notified police headquarters at 5:54 p. m. that a truck had left a few "ice boxes" in an area between the Maple Block Co., and ice plant in the Deyo street section.

Officers Benjamin Osterhoudt and Michael Mazzuca were assigned to check, and reported that the land on which the boxes had been left was leased, and the owner of the property would make sure that all the doors would be removed.

Police were asked to check a few days ago on another report that a single refrigerator had been left in a yard, where it was accessible to children. The door was removed.

Mechanic Ends Life After Refusing Aid

New York, May 24 (AP)—A 51-year-old Bronx mechanic took his own life with a hunting rifle early today after slamming his apartment door in the faces of two patrolmen who had come to his aid, police reported.

When the patrolmen battered down the door and entered the apartment at 149 W. Tremont. avenue, the Bronx, they found the mechanic, Joseph Schnalzer, lying on the bedroom floor, a bullet wound in his left side. He was pronounced dead on arrival at Morrisania Hospital.

Police said Schnalzer had made three telephone calls to nephews about 2 a. m., telling them "I called to say goodbye. I'm through with life. There's nothing further for me to live for. I have lived long enough."

President Says GOP Is Party of Majority Thought

Washington, May 24 (AP)—President Eisenhower slipped away from a White House stag dinner last night to tell a Republican audience that Democrats may outnumber them but that GOP thinking is "majority thinking."

The President said most Americans agree with the aims of his administration, which he said are based on "a very simple sort of idea." The idea:

"We take the principles of the past and apply them to the problems of the moment, and that's all there is to it."

Speaking informally at a GOP "kickoff for 1956 dinner," Eisenhower depicted the Republican party as a middle-of-the-road group with principles based on the moral precepts of the founding fathers.

"WE ARE NOT trying to go back to the horse cars, we are not trying to fly to Mars," he said.

A crowd estimated by party officials at 1,600 heard the President say:

"Now we have been told that the Republican party is a minority party. And I suppose by statistical records, that is true. But it is not true that the doctrine I have been so roughly expounding . . . is minority thinking in this country—not by any means. That is majority thinking."

Eisenhower said he regards the GOP as "the finest political organism we have through which the electorate can do its part in preserving for the future the kind of America we have inherited."

The $25-a-plate dinner was sponsored by the District of Columbia Republican Women's Finance Committee.

DINERS TOOK up a ringing chant of "We Want Ike" as Eisenhower walked on the platform. He grinned broadly but gave no hint of his plans for next year.

Eisenhower later pointed to Vice President Nixon as a "great leader" and added:

"We have dozens of others of his age (42) in the Republican party who bring inspiration to all of us by their dedicated service to the United States . . ."

Ex-Security Head Is Fined $5,000

Boston, May 24 (AP)—J. Arthur Warner of Greenwich, Conn., former head of a Boston investment firm bearing his name, was fined $5,000 in Federal Court Monday and placed on probation for two years for fraudulent practices in the sale of securities.

The firm also was fined $5,000 and a former manager, Harold S. Goldberg of Newton, was fined $2,500.

Fined $1,000 were three former salesmen—John F. Wentworth of Cranston, R. I.; James S. Cousens of Rockland, Maine, and Hugh A. Monaghan of South Yarmouth.

Judge William T. McCarthy said the offense was known in the trade as "churning." He described it as excessive trading of a customer's account in order to bring about more commissions for the salesman and the firm.

Police said Schnalzer had made three telephone calls to nephews about 2 a. m., telling them "I called to say goodbye. I'm through with life. There's nothing further for me to live for. I have lived long enough."

Two Get Long Terms

Canton, May 24 (AP)—Two of four jailbreakers sought three weeks ago in a northern New York manhunt were sentenced to long prison terms yesterday. Ralph L. Shomb, 29, of Potsdam, drew a 16-to-37-year term and Patrick Brooks, 26, of Gabriels, 7 to 15 years. Judge Donald E. Sanford ordered both imprisoned at Dannemora. The four fled the St. Lawrence county jail here after slugging a jailer and taking two pistols.

President Says GOP Is Party of Majority Thought

Washington, May 24 (AP)—President Eisenhower slipped away from a White House stag dinner last night to tell a Republican audience that Democrats may outnumber them but that GOP thinking is "majority thinking."

The President said most Americans agree with the aims of his administration, which he said are based on "a very simple sort of idea." The idea:

"We take the principles of the past and apply them to the problems of the moment, and that's all there is to it."

Speaking informally at a GOP "kickoff for 1956 dinner," Eisenhower depicted the Republican party as a middle-of-the-road group with principles based on the moral precepts of the founding fathers.

"WE ARE NOT trying to go back to the horse cars, we are not trying to fly to Mars," he said.

A crowd estimated by party officials at 1,600 heard the President say:

"Now we have been told that the Republican party is a minority party. And I suppose by statistical records, that is true. But it is not true that the doctrine I have been so roughly expounding . . . is minority thinking in this country—not by any means. That is majority thinking."

Eisenhower said he regards the GOP as "the finest political organism we have through which the electorate can do its part in preserving for the future the kind of America we have inherited."

The $25-a-plate dinner was sponsored by the District of Columbia Republican Women's Finance Committee.

DINERS TOOK up a ringing chant of "We Want Ike" as Eisenhower walked on the platform. He grinned broadly but gave no hint of his plans for next year.

Eisenhower later pointed to Vice President Nixon as a "great leader" and added:

"We have dozens of others of his age (42) in the Republican party who bring inspiration to all of us by their dedicated service to the United States . . ."

Ex-Security Head Is Fined $5,000

Boston, May 24 (AP)—J. Arthur Warner of Greenwich, Conn., former head of a Boston investment firm bearing his name, was fined $5,000 in Federal Court Monday and placed on probation for two years for fraudulent practices in the sale of securities.

The firm also was fined $5,000 and a former manager, Harold S. Goldberg of Newton, was fined $2,500.

Fined $1,000 were three former salesmen—John F. Wentworth of Cranston, R. I.; James S. Cousens of Rockland, Maine, and Hugh A. Monaghan of South Yarmouth.

Judge William T. McCarthy said the offense was known in the trade as "churning." He described it as excessive trading of a customer's account in order to bring about more commissions for the salesman and the firm.

TOP LEVEL TALKS

Those who oppose American participation in top level big four talks can muster some strong arguments for their skepticism. They point out that the Reds have honored past agreements only when they thought it to their own advantage to do so, that the ultimate goal of communism will remain world domination no matter what, that Russia may want a period of peace in which to consolidate its gains and increase its strength. Those who hold these views warn that agreements reached now could serve to lull the West into a false sense of security.

Granting that there is some justification for such opinions does not mean that we should not participate in the talks or that they will prove useless. We do not have to be lulled into a false sense of security; it does not have to take a crisis to keep us alert. The Reds may renounce violence for the time being but continue to employ propaganda to achieve their ends. Need we be any less skillful at this sort of thing than they are? Is our product harder to sell because it is freedom and truth rather than totalitarianism?

In other words we can approach the bargaining tables with a sincere desire to find a peaceful solution to problems without losing either dignity or common sense. We must have faith enough in our leaders and representatives to believe that they are capable of doing that.

It is easy to see why Alaska and Hawaii are not admitted to statehood at this time. Why should politicians do anything this year that they can save to promise to the voters next year when there is an election?

'SLOW DOWN AND LIVE'

Memorial Day to Labor Day has been declared as the period of a "Slow Down and Live" highway safety campaign. The objective of this nation-wide program is to reduce death, injury and property damage on the streets and highways of the nation during the peak period of summer travel.

"Slow Down and Live" concentrates on the violations associated with speed—the violations typical of the driver who is perpetually in a hurry and throws caution and courtesy to the winds. According to State Safety Director Prendergast excessive speed, speed too fast for conditions, improper passing, following too closely and failing to yield right-of-way are the violations which constitute the largest single factor in traffic accident causation.

The 1954 traffic fatality record for New York State covering this period was 513 deaths. The authorities are determined to improve that record this year. All that is necessary now is the use of common sense upon the part of all motorists.

It is sincerely hoped that this reminder of safe driving and the prevention of highway accidents will help save the lives of our readers. There will be increased traffic on our highways over the three-day Memorial Day holiday with the chance of more accidents. It will be well to keep this in mind.

SUPPORTING COLLEGES

A certain private college loses $2,000 on every Bachelor of Arts it graduates. The arithmetic is simple: It costs the college $6,000 to do the job; the student pays $4,000 tuition.

The difference between what the college spends and what it takes in tuition is made up by gifts from those interested in education. If it were not for such gifts many of the private colleges would have to close their doors.

In the past many colleges benefited from the generosity of the very wealthy. Although there are still gifts and endowments from such people they are not so frequent as they once were and the costs of education continue to mount. Much of the slack has been picked up by business and industry. Industrialists and corporation heads know how necessary it is that private colleges continue to function.

Big business has often been the butt of criticism and has been accused of being soulless. In the matter of its contribution to education, however, business has demonstrated how enlightened it can be and what a force for good it wields.

THE OBSESSION

LONDON, May 20—The Britishers I have talked to already, party leaders, business men, officials, take it that Americans are obsessed on the subject of communism. They feel that we make too much of the subject. They say that they have had their troubles with their own Communists longer than we have. The Communist Party is open in Great Britain and some 17 candidates are running for Parliament. It is expected that none will be elected. Only two labor unions are Communist dominated; the electrical workers union is the largest and most important. It is taken for granted that there is a Communist infiltration of their unions and the present scourge of wildcat strikes is attributed to Communist agitation in the unions. There is fear of a dockers' strike, due to this cause, which could be very damaging to the British economy. Nevertheless, the general attitude is that it is not worth the effort to do much about the British Communists. When I speak of Dr. Klaus Fuchs, of Burgess and MacLean, I get the answer that there will be a wormy apple here and there and that Scotland Yard is an efficient organization in which everybody has confidence.

The trade union people say that they can handle any situation involving a "closed" Communist, by which I take it that they mean one who has gone underground and plans to achieve a measure of success by infiltration. They also have great faith in what they call "British character." Nevertheless, they do have strikes, for not better than agitation reason, at a period of full employment and good wages for here. The principal infiltration of Communists is in the trade unions and in some universities. It is not very seriously taken. The trade unions feel that when a Communist shows his hand they will be able to throw him out. If he does not show his hand, what good is he to the Communists? The intellectuals who tend toward Marxism are looked upon as intellectuals who wander into the Garden of Eden without much of a compass.

I have not discovered whether there is much infiltration in radio or the newspapers. Radio or television is not anything like what we have in the United States because, being government owned, it is very closely controlled. An independent commercial television company is about to come into existence. Generally speaking these media of communications take on the official attitude of the government, although ample time is given to the opposition. The division of time seems to be very fair. The attitude toward Russia and Red China is very different from ours. The British do not like the Russians and much less the Red Chinese. Nevertheless, they say that these countries exist. They are upon the earth. They have large populations. It is impossible not to deal with them.

Chiang Kai-shek is unpopular here, not because they have anything against Chiang personally but because he complicates the entire Asiatic problem from a British point of view. They feel that the Kuomintang has had its day. At any rate, they are more concerned over India, Malay, Burma, Pakistan, Ceylon, Indonesia and they want to remove obstacles to the strengthening of opposition to Red China (I must make the point here that I am not quoting anybody because I wanted to learn what others thought and believed and I have been given opportunities to see many men who will not speak frankly if there is the remotest chance of attribution, direct or indirect. Therefore no indication is given in any of these articles of sources).

To return to Red China and Soviet Russia, the British recognize officially and unofficially that both are here to stay and that nothing can be done about it short of war. They do not want war. Therefore, they say that a way must be found to live together as much as there is a distaste for it. There is no difference of view on this subject between the Conservatives, the Socialists and the Liberals. And none of them understand the American abhorrence for Soviet Russia or Red China. When told that we did not recognize Soviet Russia from 1917 to 1933, therefore why must we recognize Red China, there is a shrug of the shoulder. The British do not do it that way.

STONES IN THE PROSTATE

A few days ago we wrote about kidney stones (renal calculi) and the fact that these stones may exist in many persons who are totally unaware of them because they cause no symptoms or pain. Once they do give rise to symptoms, however, surgery for their removal is the wisest method of treatment. Today we will consider another type of stone which occurs in the prostate gland, prostatic calculi, as they are called. These prostatic stones are of two types: those caused by salts from the urine becoming hardened and forming stones and those caused by the formation of small particles of cholesterol, which is a constituent of animal fats and oils not soluble in water. Often these cholesterol particles are covered over with a layer of urinary salts.

As is the case with kidney stones, no symptoms may arise from these prostatic stones, but it has been observed that at least half of the patients with prostatic stones have mild inflammation of the prostate gland. Fifteen to 20 per cent of the patients with enlargement and obstruction of the prostate have these prostatic stones. Prostatic calculi may be small in size and easily overlooked but may be suspected when the prostate is hard, and especially when a grating or crunching feeling is discovered by rectal examination.

Patients with stones in the prostate often have recurring attacks of urinary infection with mild inflammation of the prostate gland, although this is not always true. Low back pain is often present, as well as pain over the pubes (that portion of the hip bones forming the front of the pelvis). They will usually appear on X-ray examination unless they contain only small amounts of calcium or unless the shadows cast by the public bones hide them.

What is done for prostatic stones? Treatment of prostatic calculi is surgical removal of the stones along with any of the surrounding prostate which has become diseased. One case has been reported at which 1,247 stones were found and in other reported cases several hundred calculi have been found at operation. There are various methods used at operation but one of the most popular ones is by the urethra. It has been recommended that an X-ray be taken of the patient before he is removed from the operaing table to make sure that all the stones have been cleaned out.

The period of convalescence after the operation is usually without complications and there is no interference with the sexual function. It is considered the wisest method of treatment to remove prostatic stones, especially if they are causing symptoms.

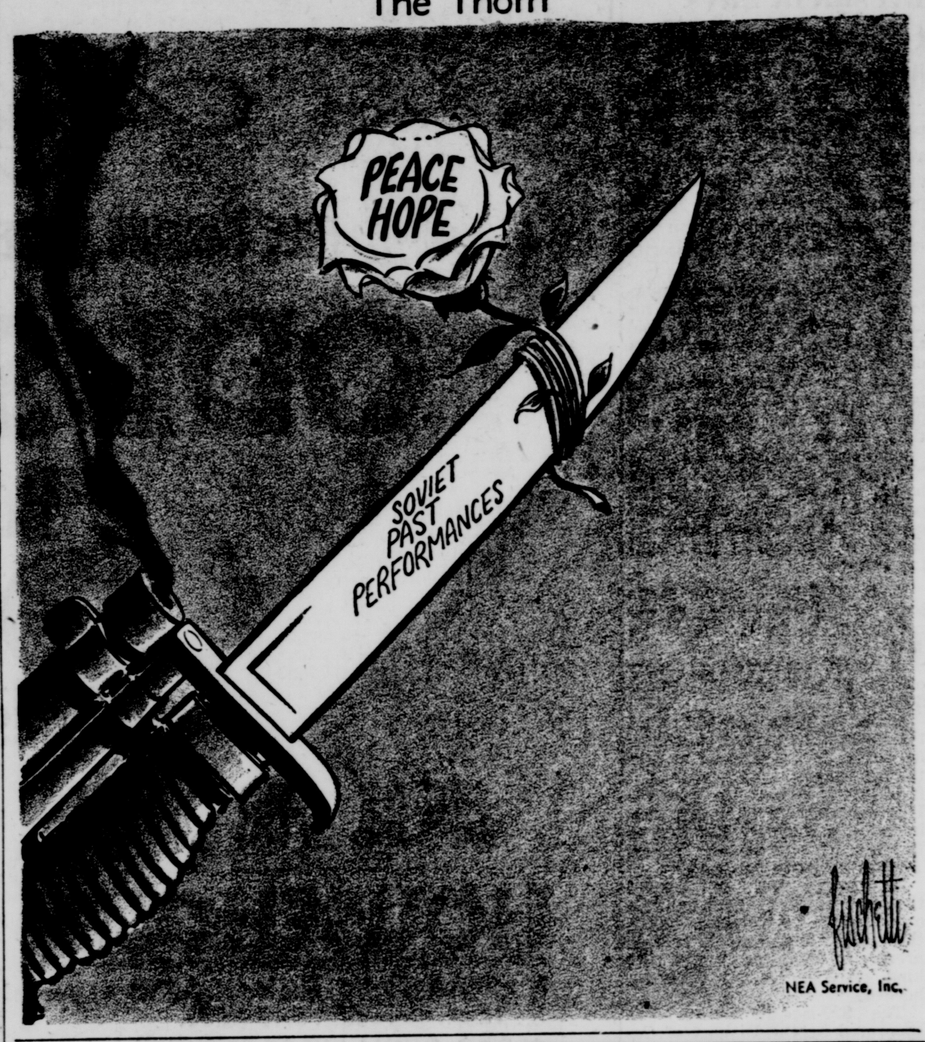
The Thorn



Edson's Washington News Notebook

BY PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent

Washington — (NEA) — With threats of a June automobile industry strike over the guaranteed annual wage issue, there is a build-up of national interest and speculation on its possible outcome.

The most authoritative guess so far obtainable from the employers' point of view comes from Frank Rising of Detroit, general manager of the Automotive Parts Manufacturers' Association.

He says: "I believe the United Auto Workers' leaders want a strike—a big strike."

He amplified this view at an on-the-record dinner arranged for him in Washington by U. S. Chamber of Commerce.

Rising is of the opinion that the primary target of UAW on the guaranteed annual wage issue is General Motors. He reasons that even if Ford or Chrysler gave some kind of settlement satisfactory to UAW President Walter Reuther, he would still have to get it from General Motors for it to be a success.

The possibility that Reuther would strike more than one company at the same time is considered real.

Frank Rising makes clear that he is not a spokesman for the Chamber or for the auto manufacturers.

SO FAR, FORD AND GENERAL MOTORS, who have been in actual negotiations with UAW on a new contract, have been completely silent. This follows their policy of not discussing issues during collective bargaining.

Rising is just the first employer representative who has dared stick his head out to oppose Reuther on the "GAW" issue. He is adviser and consultant on labor relations for the auto parts industry, though he takes no part in negotiations.

He admits to being a kind of industry gossip. He talks to all the employers. And he has made a two-year study of what is now called in Detroit, "the guaranteed annual wedge."

The costs of "GAW" cannot be computed, says Rising. The estimated four per cent of payroll contribution to a full pay for unemployment might run to 16 cents an hour wage increase.

"GAW" would necessitate a complete change of present seniority rules and job classifications. It could mean that the auto makers might have to become their own parts manufacturers in order to provide work in slack seasons.

This latter angle is one that particularly bothers the independent parts makers. There are 500 of these companies now, with 400,000 employes.

THEY RUN FROM SMALL PLANTS with fewer than 100 employes, up to Borg-Warner with 25,000. They do not include the tire, battery, steel, glass and textile suppliers.

"GAW" would not mean that all parts makers would go out of business. Many parts makers and some auto companies have gone out of business without a guaranteed annual wage. But the death of others might be hastened by it, says Rising.

Ford and General Motors, he says, might afford to set up private, supplementary unemployment compensation funds. This would be on top of the present state job insurance system. Smaller companies couldn't afford that luxury.

Rising once suggested to Reuther that the unions themselves could do this by an increase in dues, paid by a raise in wages to cover it. Reuther's answer was one word, "Nonsense."

Rising sees a number of possible outcomes to the present nervousness. He does not foresee an across-the-board settlement.

The big companies might agree to set up supplementary unemployment funds for a year, then decide how to administer them.

The auto companies have so far had record first and second quarter business. Sixty per cent of the cars are normally bought in the first half of the year.

A STRIKE IN THE DULLER third quarter might provide an opportunity to settle some of the issues now in dispute and permit better than average business in the fourth quarter.

Though "GAW" is the most complex issue the industry has faced since the sit-down strike days, it will ultimately be settled somehow.

Making clear that a compromise settlement is not his own idea, but a composite of what a lot of other people in his industry think, Rising outlines these possibilities for a package settlement:

A good wage increase of 6 to 8 cents an hour.

An additional paid holiday for a total of eight.

An improvement in pension fund provisions.

Possibly increased health and welfare insurance.

Improvement in vacations.

A guaranteed 40-hour work week, when there is work. This would not eliminate seasonal layoffs for model changes.

Rising thinks Reuther is not in a position to get "GAW" at this time. Reuther himself says he will get it in 1955 and it will radiate to other industries.

Both British Political Parties Are Making Capital of Big Four Parley

By DAVID LAWRENCE

London, May 23—Somebody got the Soviet government's goat last week, and maybe it was Eisenhower or maybe it was Dulles. But the net result is an indignant editorial in "Pravda," which is widely reprinted here this week, complaining that the American government isn't really sincere about the four-power conference "at the summit" because presumably irrelevant questions are being raised by the United States for discussion.

Thus, for instance, the Moscow editorial says it is absurd to introduce the matter of restoring the "old regimes" in the satellite countries or prohibiting the "progressive movement in capitalist countries." All this, the Soviets say, has "no connection with the tasks of the conference" and are merely "technical obstacles."

The Soviets, of course, would like another Yalta conference in which the world would be carved up by the major powers and there would be binding agreements made that amounted to the abandonment of the hopes and aspirations of the oppressed peoples.

The Moscow strategists had better watch out, because, while they accuse America of interfering in the British election campaign by saying a four-power conference is favored by the United States when really not caring for it, there is a chance the partisans here will come to the conclusion that the Russians are doing a bit of interfering, too. For if they blast the hopes of the British stump speakers about the eventual value of the four-power conference, they will be hurting the campaign arguments of both sides here. The Socialist Labor party folks, for example, applaud the decision to hold a four-power conference as being the result of their efforts. The Conservatives, while cautious about their predictions, are nevertheless playing the issue for all it is worth as an index of their own constructive purposes. Harold Macmillian, Foreign Secretary and Conservative leader, puts it this way:

"All this process of negotiation will take time. There will be disappointments as well as successes. But so long as this process is going on, it means peace and no war. The very fact of this system being effectively at work will serve to reduce tension and perhaps prevent dangerous outbreaks at this or that tender spot in international relations. To that extent, even if it does not achieve anything or everything, it will still be more than justified."

Mr. Macmillian talks in this broad and vague way to impress the electorate with the belief that something vital toward the making of peace is going on. He declares that the four powers "should not arrogate to themselves that authority to settle all the difficulties which beset all nations," but he thinks their survey should cover the globe and "should not be confined necessarily to Europe but could comprise the problems of the Far East."

The passion for peace is tremendous, but it is a serious question whether it is wise to let the people believe the chances are better than they really are. What the Conservatives are campaigning against is a program of the Left-Wing Socialist Labor party speakers who are saying many of the things Soviet Russia would like to see accomplished. Aneurin Bevan, one of the Socialist Labor party leaders, argues for his party platform, which includes a ban on all nuclear bomb tests. He says:

"The H-bombs now being exploded may have appalling effects on the human species. Children may be born with all kinds of hideous formations."

This is the line the Communists have been trying to put over for a long time, even in America. The British press prints charges about the fallout from nuclear tests which aren't true and have no official confirmation at all. Alfred Robens, former Minister of Labor and now a candidate for Parliament on the Socialist Labor ticket, says a vote for him means "an effort to get nations to agree to stop H-bomb tests." He adds, "Certainly Eden is not as likely to stand up to the United States State Department as was Atlee."

Despite the claim that this election campaign is being fought on domestic issues, a lot is being said about foreign policy and it seems certain that, if the Socialist Labor party wins, Moscow will be happy—at least for a while. For the truth is that the Socialist Labor party leaders know that friction with America would mean a short tenure for them.

It is remarkable how little intelligence the electorate is supposed to have. That's the biggest mistake the politicians make both here and back home.

BOOK REVIEW

To further increase interest in the Kingston Library the following review by Mrs. G. Cramer Dodge is published.

MISS HARRIET TOWNSHEND
By Kathleen Norris

This is a story which is mostly concerned with two girls—and a man—in the horse and buggy days in San Francisco and on nearby ranches.

The girls, who were intimate friends, have very different backgrounds. Corelia starts life as eldest daughter of a wealthy Spanish-American ranch owner and his pious, domineering wife. Closely chaperoned as Corelia always is, she manages at the first opportunity to have a rendezvous with one of her father's ranchers, Louis Johnson. Louis proves faithless to his promise to come back to marry her soon so, terrified by her indiscretion, Corelia confesses to her mother. Her mother quickly uses this as an opportunity to force Corelia to marry ugly, wealthy old Martin Salazar Y Valdez, owner of the famous Corzon d'Oro ranch.

THIS MARRIAGE proves successful. Corelia, after first rebelling against Martin's marital overtures, settles down to being a devoted wife and mother to their four sons who follow in quick succession. In fact she enjoys their beautiful hacienda very little, being confined by illnesses incident to maternity to the upper rooms for most of the eight years of her marriage with Martin. However Martin was a kindly and indulgent husband so Corelia really mourned his passing, although her grief was somewhat mitigated by the fact that she now finds herself an immensely wealthy widow at age 29 and mistress of a large and prosperous ranch.

Harriet Townshend's early life was a turbulent one. Her mother, born in Ireland was widowed while her two children, Johnny and Harriet, were quite young. After the death of the childrens' father, handsome, irresponsible Johnny Townshend, black sheep son of a conservative Boston family, Mrs. Townshend returned to Ireland. Then in answer to a warm invitation she took the children to visit Johnny's parents in Boston. That was not as she expected it would be, so back she went to the Sandwich Islands where the children were born. Only to find a mountain of debts left by Johnny. Somehow over the years she managed to pay off those debts and rear her children respectably. Now in 1872, about when Corelia was widowed, Mrs. Townshend and Harriet leave the Islands for San Francisco where young Johnny has a job with Wells Fargo. Now she is on solid ground. An excellent manager and housekeeper, she is soon running a highly superior boarding house and is able to provide an excellent background for pretty, dainty, red-haired, blue-eyed Harriet.

Almost at once Harriet enters into the upper social life of San Francisco. She is welcomed everywhere and her suitors are numerous. Without meaning to she becomes a real heartbreaker.

THEN CORELIA comes to Mrs. Townshend's boarding house with her little sick son, Francisco. Harriet, as official welcomer of guests, greets her warmly in the suite assigned to Corelia. Immediately they become fast friends. When it is learned that little Cisco's disease is incurable, Harriet returns to the ranch with Corelia and stays until after the boy's death. That cements their friendship still further.

When Harriet hears some time after her return to San Francisco that Corelia might possibly marry her handsome foreman, Philip Haagerstrom, she is dismayed because of what it might do their friendship. However when Harriet next visits the ranch and sees how deeply in love Corelia is with Philip, she proceeds to foster the match. Then Philip tells Corelia that he cannot go through with the marriage because as husband of a very rich woman his own dream of becoming a surgeon is doomed.

Further he later discovers that he has fallen desperately in love with Harriet, and she with him. What to do is now an almost insurmountable problem.

With consummate skill, the author works out an exceedingly unusual solution. There are scenes of emotion, excitement and suspense enough to suit the most exacting.

Mrs. Norris, in addition to telling a fascinating tale, gives a clear picture of San Francisco in its early boom days—its ornate houses on Nob Hill, its teeming Chinatown, its warm, foggy mornings and its golden sunsets and also of the exotic life in the haciendas of the fantastically luxurious ranches of that day. A double treat.

"I was just leaning over to sniff some rare perfume she was wearing." "H'mm," said the judge. "Twenty-five dollars fine and keep your eye on the road."

TOP LEVEL TALKS

Those who oppose American participation in top level big four talks can muster some strong arguments for their skepticism. They point out that the Reds have honored past agreements only when they thought it to their own advantage to do so, that the ultimate goal of communism will remain world domination no matter what, that Russia may want a period of peace in which to consolidate its gains and increase its strength. Those who hold these views warn that agreements reached now could serve to lull the West into a false sense of security.

Granting that there is some justification for such opinions does not mean that we should not participate in the talks or that they will prove useless. We do not have to be lulled into a false sense of security; it does not have to take a crisis to keep us alert. The Reds may renounce violence for the time being but continue to employ propaganda to achieve their ends. Need we be any less skillful at this sort of thing than they are? Is our product harder to sell because it is freedom and truth rather than totalitarianism?

In other words we can approach the bargaining tables with a sincere desire to find a peaceful solution to problems without losing either dignity or common sense. We must have faith enough in our leaders and representatives to believe that they are capable of doing that.

It is easy to see why Alaska and Hawaii are not admitted to statehood at this time. Why should politicians do anything this year that they can save to promise to the voters next year when there is an election?

'SLOW DOWN AND LIVE'

Memorial Day to Labor Day has been declared as the period of a "Slow Down and Live" highway safety campaign. The objective of this nation-wide program is to reduce death, injury and property damage on the streets and highways of the nation during the peak period of summer travel.

"Slow Down and Live" concentrates on the violations associated with speed—the violations typical of the driver who is perpetually in a hurry and throws caution and courtesy to the winds. According to State Safety Director Prendergast excessive speed, speed too fast for conditions, improper passing, following too closely and failing to yield right-of-way are the violations which constitute the largest single factor in traffic accident causation.

The 1954 traffic fatality record for New York State covering this period was 513 deaths. The authorities are determined to improve that record this year. All that is necessary now is the use of common sense upon the part of all motorists.

It is sincerely hoped that this reminder of safe driving and the prevention of highway accidents will help save the lives of our readers. There will be increased traffic on our highways over the three-day Memorial Day holiday with the chance of more accidents. It will be well to keep this in mind.

SUPPORTING COLLEGES

A certain private college loses $2,000 on every Bachelor of Arts it graduates. The arithmetic is simple: It costs the college $6,000 to do the job; the student pays $4,000 tuition.

The difference between what the college spends and what it takes in tuition is made up by gifts from those interested in education. If it were not for such gifts many of the private colleges would have to close their doors.

In the past many colleges benefited from the generosity of the very wealthy. Although there are still gifts and endowments from such people they are not so frequent as they once were and the costs of education continue to mount. Much of the slack has been picked up by business and industry. Industrialists and corporation heads know how necessary it is that private colleges continue to function.

Big business has often been the butt of criticism and has been accused of being soulless. In the matter of its contribution to education, however, business has demonstrated how enlightened it can be and what a force for good it wields.

'These Days'

THE OBSESSION

LONDON, May 20—The Britishers I have talked to already, party leaders, business men, officials, take it that Americans are obsessed on the subject of communism. They feel that we make too much of the subject. They say that they have had their troubles with their own Communists longer than we have. The Communist Party is open in Great Britain and some 17 candidates are running for Parliament. It is expected that none will be elected. Only two labor unions are Communist dominated; the electrical workers union is the largest and most important. It is taken for granted that there is a Communist infiltration of their unions and the present scourge of wildcat strikes is attributed to Communist agitation in the unions. There is fear of a dockers' strike, due to this cause, which could be very damaging to the British economy. Nevertheless, the general attitude is that it is not worth the effort to do much about the British Communists. When I speak of Dr. Klaus Fuchs, of Burgess and MacLean, I get the answer that there will be a wormy apple here and there and that Scotland Yard is an efficient organization in which everybody has confidence.

The trade union people say that they can handle any situation involving a "closed" Communist, by which I take it that they mean one who has gone underground and plans to achieve a measure of success by infiltration. They also have great faith in what they call "British character." Nevertheless, they do have strikes, for not better than agitation reason, at a period of full employment and good wages for here. The principal infiltration of Communists is in the trade unions and in some universities. It is not very seriously taken. The trade unions feel that when a Communist shows his hand they will be able to throw him out. If he does not show his hand, what good is he to the Communists? The intellectuals who tend toward Marxism are looked upon as intellectuals who wander into the Garden of Eden without much of a compass.

I have not discovered whether there is much infiltration in radio or the newspapers. Radio or television is not anything like what we have in the United States because, being government owned, it is very closely controlled. An independent commercial television company is about to come into existence. Generally speaking these media of communications take on the official attitude of the government, although ample time is given to the opposition. The division of time seems to be very fair. The attitude toward Russia and Red China is very different from ours. The British do not like the Russians and much less the Red Chinese. Nevertheless, they say that these countries exist. They are upon the earth. They have large populations. It is impossible not to deal with them.

Chiang Kai-shek is unpopular here, not because they have anything against Chiang personally but because he complicates the entire Asiatic problem from a British point of view. They feel that the Kuomintang has had its day. At any rate, they are more concerned over India, Malay, Burma, Pakistan, Ceylon, Indonesia and they want to remove obstacles to the strengthening of opposition to Red China (I must make the point here that I am not quoting anybody because I wanted to learn what others thought and believed and I have been given opportunities to see many men who will not speak frankly if there is the remotest chance of attribution, direct or indirect. Therefore no indication is given in any of these articles of sources).

To return to Red China and Soviet Russia, the British recognize officially and unofficially that both are here to stay and that nothing can be done about it short of war. They do not want war. Therefore, they say that a way must be found to live together as much as there is a distaste for it. There is no difference of view on this subject between the Conservatives, the Socialists and the Liberals. And none of them understand the American abhorrence for Soviet Russia or Red China. When told that we did not recognize Soviet Russia from 1917 to 1933, therefore why must we recognize Red China, there is a shrug of the shoulder. The British do not do it that way.

STONES IN THE PROSTATE

A few days ago we wrote about kidney stones (renal calculi) and the fact that these stones may exist in many persons who are totally unaware of them because they cause no symptoms or pain. Once they do give rise to symptoms, however, surgery for their removal is the wisest method of treatment. Today we will consider another type of stone which occurs in the prostate gland, prostatic calculi, as they are called. These prostatic stones are of two types: those caused by salts from the urine becoming hardened and forming stones and those caused by the formation of small particles of cholesterol, which is a constituent of animal fats and oils not soluble in water. Often these cholesterol particles are covered over with a layer of urinary salts.

As is the case with kidney stones, no symptoms may arise from these prostatic stones, but it has been observed that at least half of the patients with prostatic stones have mild inflammation of the prostate gland. Fifteen to 20 per cent of the patients with enlargement and obstruction of the prostate have these prostatic stones. Prostatic calculi may be small in size and easily overlooked but may be suspected when the prostate is hard, and especially when a grating or crunching feeling is discovered by rectal examination.

Patients with stones in the prostate often have recurring attacks of urinary infection with mild inflammation of the prostate gland, although this is not always true. Low back pain is often present, as well as pain over the pubes (that portion of the hip bones forming the front of the pelvis). They will usually appear on X-ray examination unless they contain only small amounts of calcium or unless the shadows cast by the public bones hide them.

What is done for prostatic stones? Treatment of prostatic calculi is surgical removal of the stones along with any of the surrounding prostate which has become diseased. One case has been reported at which 1,247 stones were found and in other reported cases several hundred calculi have been found at operation. There are various methods used at operation but one of the most popular ones is by the urethra. It has been recommended that an X-ray be taken of the patient before he is removed from the operating table to make sure that all the stones have been cleaned out.

The period of convalescence after the operation is usually without complications and there is no interference with the sexual function. It is considered the wisest method of treatment to remove prostatic stones, especially if they are causing symptoms.

The Thorn

Edson's Washington News Notebook

BY PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent

Washington — (NEA) — With threats of a June automobile industry strike over the guaranteed annual wage issue, there is a build-up of national interest and speculation on its possible outcome.

The most authoritative guess so far obtainable from the employers' point of view comes from Frank Rising of Detroit, general manager of the Automotive Parts Manufacturers' Association.

He says: "I believe the United Auto Workers' leaders want a strike—a big strike."

He amplified this view at an on-the-record dinner arranged for him in Washington by U. S. Chamber of Commerce.

Rising is of the opinion that the primary target of UAW on the guaranteed annual wage issue is General Motors. He reasons that even if Ford or Chrysler gave some kind of settlement satisfactory to UAW President Walter Reuther, he would still have to get it from General Motors for it to be a success.

The possibility that Reuther would strike more than one company at the same time is considered real.

Frank Rising makes clear that he is not a spokesman for the Chamber or for the auto manufacturers.

SO FAR, FORD AND GENERAL MOTORS, who have been in actual negotiations with UAW on a new contract, have been completely silent. This follows their policy of not discussing issues during collective bargaining.

Rising is just the first employer representative who has dared stick' his head out to oppose Reuther on the "GAW" issue. He is adviser and consultant on labor relations for the auto parts industry, though he takes no part in negotiations.

He admits to being a kind of industry gossip. He talks to all the employers. And he has made a two-year study of what is now called in Detroit, "the guaranteed annual wedge."

The costs of "GAW" cannot be computed, says Rising. The estimated four per cent of payroll contribution to a full pay for unemployment might run to 16 cents an hour wage increase.

"GAW" would necessitate a complete change of present seniority rules and job classifications. It could mean that the auto makers might have to become their own parts manufacturers in order to provide work in slack seasons.

This latter angle is one that particularly bothers the independent parts makers. There are 500 of these companies now, with 400,000 employes.

THEY RUN FROM SMALL PLANTS with fewer than 100 employes, up to Borg-Warner with 25,000. They do not include the tire, battery, steel, glass and textile suppliers.

"GAW" would not mean that all parts makers would go out of business. Many parts makers and some auto companies have gone out of business without a guaranteed annual wage. But the death of others might be hastened by it, says Rising.

Ford and General Motors, he says, might afford to set up private, supplementary unemployment compensation funds. This would be on top of the present state job insurance system. Smaller companies couldn't afford that luxury.

Rising once suggested to Reuther that the unions themselves could do this by an increase in dues, paid by a raise in wages to cover it. Reuther's answer was one word, "Nonsense."

Rising sees a number of possible outcomes to the present nervousness. He does not foresee an across-the-board settlement.

The big companies might agree to set up supplementary unemployment funds for a year, then decide how to administer them.

The auto companies have so far had record first and second quarter business. Sixty per cent of the cars are normally bought in the first half of the year.

A STRIKE IN THE DULLER third quarter might provide an opportunity to settle some of the issues now in dispute and permit better than average business in the fourth quarter.

Though "GAW" is the most complex issue the industry has faced since the sit-down strike days, it will ultimately be settled somehow.

Making clear that a compromise settlement is not his own idea, but a composite of what a lot of other people in his industry think, Rising outlines these possibilities for a package settlement:

A good wage increase of 6 to 8 cents an hour.

An additional paid holiday for a total of eight.

An improvement in pension fund provisions.

Possibly increased health and welfare insurance.

Improvement in vacations.

A guaranteed 40-hour work week, when there is work. This would not eliminate seasonal layoffs for model changes.

Rising thinks Reuther is not in a position to get "GAW" at this time. Reuther himself says he will get it in 1955 and it will radiate to other industries.

Today in Europe

Both British Political Parties Are Making Capital of Big Four Parley

By DAVID LAWRENCE

London, May 23—Somebody got the Soviet government's goat last week, and maybe it was Eisenhower or maybe it was Dulles. But the net result is an indignant editorial in "Pravda," which is widely reprinted here this week, complaining that the American government isn't really sincere about the four-power conference "at the summit" because presumably irrelevant questions are being raised by the United States for discussion.

Thus, for instance, the Moscow editorial says it is absurd to introduce the matter of restoring the "old regimes" in the satellite countries or prohibiting the "progressive movement in capitalist countries." All this, the Soviets say, has "no connection with the tasks of the conference" and are merely "technical obstacles."

The Soviets, of course, would like another Yalta conference in which the world would be carved up by the major powers and there would be binding agreements made that amounted to the abandonment of the hopes and aspirations of the oppressed peoples.

The Moscow strategists had better watch out, because, while they accuse America of interfering in the British election campaign by saying a four-power conference is favored by the United States when really not caring for it, there is a chance the partisans here will come to the conclusion that the Russians are doing a bit of interfering, too. For if they blast the hopes of the British stump speakers about the eventual value of the four-power conference, they will be hurting the campaign arguments of both sides here. The Socialist Labor party folks, for example, applaud the decision to hold a four-power conference as being the result of their efforts. The Conservatives, while cautious about their predictions, are nevertheless playing the issue for all it is worth as an index of their own constructive purposes. Harold Macmillian, Foreign Secretary and Conservative leader, puts it this way:

"All this process of negotiation will take time. There will be disappointments as well as successes. But so long as this process is going on, it means peace and no war. The very fact of this system being effectively at work will serve to reduce tension and perhaps prevent dangerous outbreaks at this or that tender spot in international relations. To that extent, even if it does not achieve anything or everything, it will still be more than justified."

Mr. Macmillian talks in this broad and vague way to impress the electorate with the belief that something vital toward the making of peace is going on. He declares that the four powers "should not arrogate to themselves that authority to settle all the difficulties which beset all nations," but he thinks their survey should cover the globe and "should not be confined necessarily to Europe but could comprise the problems of the Far East."

The passion for peace is tremendous, but it is a serious question whether it is wise to let the people believe the chances are better than they really are. What the Conservatives are campaigning against is a program of the Left-Wing Socialist Labor party speakers who are saying many of the things Soviet Russia would like to see accomplished. Aneurin Bevan, one of the Socialist Labor party leaders, argues for his party platform, which includes a ban on all nuclear bomb tests. He says:

"The H-bombs now being exploded may have appalling effects on the human species. Children may be born with all kinds of hideous formations."

This is the line the Communists have been trying to put over for a long time, even in America. The British press prints charges about the fallout from nuclear tests which aren't true and have no official confirmation at all. Alfred Robens, former Minister of Labor and now a candidate for Parliament on the Socialist Labor ticket, says a vote for him means "an effort to get nations to agree to stop H-bomb tests." He adds, "Certainly Eden is not as likely to stand up to the United States State Department as was Atlee."

Despite the claim that this election campaign is being fought on domestic issues, a lot is being said about foreign policy and it seems certain that, if the Socialist Labor party wins, Moscow will be happy—at least for a while. For the truth is that the Socialist Labor party leaders know that friction with America would mean a short tenure for them.

It is remarkable how little intelligence the electorate is supposed to have. That's the biggest mistake the politicians make both here and back home.

New York, May 24 (AP)—The atomic ship is a couple of steps today past the "just talk" stage.

Several designs for an atomic powered merchant ship have been sent to the White House for President Eisenhower to choose the one he likes best.

And a nuclear powered passenger liner has been designed by engineers of Bethlehem Steel's shipbuilding division.

At least two steamship companies are definitely interested in the "ship of tomorrow."

The United States Lines is considering building an atom powered passenger ship. It would use the atomic ship as a sister vessel to the giant liner, the United States, and as a replacement for its aging liner, the America.

THE AMERICAN. President lines has offered to participate with the Maritime Administration in construction and operation of the atomic merchant ship that President Eisenhower wants.

While these developments were highlighthing the start of World Trade Week now in full swing, the Atomic Energy Commission took another step toward letting private industry speed up its march into the atomic age. The AEC issued its proposed rules under which American businessmen can obtain confidential or secret information needed to develop civilian uses of atomic energy. Lack of such data has held back several programs.

SEAGOING transportation isn't the only thing to get a boost. The AEC has approved a one-year industrial study of the possible use of atomic-powered engines in railroad locomotives.

But plans for ocean vessels powered by nuclear reactors are the farthest along.

The shipping industry has been fired with interest by the success of the navy's atom-powered submarine, the Nautilus. This first vessel is admittedly too expense to be a competitor of the conventional power plants for our merchant marine.

But engineers believe the expense can be cut now that the navy has pioneered the way. They add that atom-powered freighters and liners would have operational economies and advantages—more space for cargo and passengers, for one thing.

ALSO THE shipping companies doubtless expect Uncle Sam to pick up a sizable part of the tab for building the first atom ships. They argue that the United States would gain in prestige by pioneering the way and that atom-powered vessels, because they could operate so long without refueling, would be a great defense asset in case of war.

The vessel which Bethlehem Steel engineers have designed would have an over-all length of 600 feet and could transport 500 passengers around the globe without refueling.

The United States Lines is said to be well along in its planning for a ship to replace the America. The United States, for which the proposed vessel would be a sister liner, is 990 feet long and can carry 2,000 persons. The size and cost of the reactor which would be needed for a ship that size has not been announced.

But the congressional atomic energy committee was told that a cargo vessel around 500 feet long with a lift from 11,000 to 13,500 tons would cost 33 million dollars, with 21 million of that being for the nuclear power plant. The cost of pioneering comes high.

Future Paratrooper Dies in Span Plunge

New York, May 24 (AP)—Seventeen-year-old William Olivar was to become a parachute trooper today.

Yesterday, a group of pals teased him about his qualifications for the service as they were crossing a Harlem river bridge.

Flushed with anger, the youth vaulted a four-foot railing of the bridge, stripped off his T-shirt and kicked off his shoes.

"I'll show you," he shouted. Then he plunged 180 feet into the river below.

It took an hour to recover the body.

Twining, the chief of staff, will testify behind closed doors on assertions the Soviets may have gained superiority in some fields.

Hillbilly Crooner Quits Ole Opry Show

Nashville, Tenn., May 24 (AP)—Webb Pierce, a top crooner in the hillbilly field, yesterday quit radio station WSM's Grand Ole Opry program.

In a letter to John H. Dewitt Jr., president of WSM, and to Edwin Craig, chairman of the board of National Life and Accident Insurance Co. which owns WSM, Webb complained that he was not given his own radio show.

Dewitt commented: "We brought the youngster here because we recognized his talent. I have nothing else to say at this time except to wish him well."

The singer has recorded several nationwide hits. "In the Jailhouse Now," his latest, is his 18th straight hit record.

What does it mean to "diversify" your investments?

Question submitted by Thomas J. Marks, Allen Park, Mich., Engineer.

It means that you don't put all your eggs in one basket . . . and it's a sound policy for many investors. You can diversify by investing in the different kinds of securities listed on the New York Stock Exchange. There are common stocks (generally they've brought the largest returns over the years, but entail the most risk) and there are preferred stocks (usually less reward and less risk). And there are bonds—corporate and government—which are generally the safest of all securities, but which usually pay only a fixed rate of interest. Many people diversify their investments in all three—common stocks, preferred stocks and bonds—the ratio of one to the other depending on their objectives and personal situation. Another way to diversify is to invest in different companies, preferably in different industries.

The Member Firms of the New York Stock Exchange can supply the latest available facts on listed companies and government bonds. These organizations may help you save money in financing homes, in buying cars, they offer you the services of an investment fund, and are working to serve you in many other ways.

The Mature Parent

Ignoring Teen-Age Struggle Makes Growing Up Harder

By MRS. MURIEL LAWRENCE

A reader is shocked by a recent column on an experience with my adolescent daughter.

She had defied my judgment about what time to leave a party. I retaliated with an angry threat to withdraw all guidance from her. She didn't answer—and suddenly, I realized my threat had frightened her. I saw the defiance was not self-confidence, but the absence of it. So I rushed to her with my trust of her judgment on the time to leave the party.

She exercised it responsibly.

My shocked reader writes: "You will suffer for this mistake. Children are subject to parents. They are obliged to obey insofar as the parent does not make a sinful demand."

Does this reader deny an adolescent child all exercise of his own conscience?

Oh, how hard we can make growing up if we don't register the struggles it involves.

We register the infant's. We are kind to the baby we are weaning when he screams to be returned to the breast. Clearly we see that our shriking baby has no trust at all in his own progress but wants to stay attached to us, an unadventurous suckling.

But when our 17-year-old attacks us for refusing a weekend visit to strangers, we're not so discerning. The fact that she's fighting us for the same reason she screamed when we were weaning her, escapes us. Then she raged because the comforting familiarity of our milk had been removed from her. Now she rages because the comforting familiarity of our moral approval has been removed from her. And she is terrified to adventure into that weekend without it.

To know that is true is good. To know that it's natural is even better.

For knowing it as natural truth, we can be kind to the child whom growth must wean from security in our conscience to security in her own.

With tenderness instead of anger, we can say: "My dearest daughter, one day you will be so sure of yourself that what we think won't count. The confusion is, it isn't here yet. You haven't lived long enough to trust yourself more than you trust us. So stop pretending that our opinion of this weekend doesn't count. It does count. You're just not ready to risk an adventure that we disapprove of. If it ended in hurt, it might take too long a time before you could believe in another one."

Obedience can be "subjection." It can also be instruction in self-preservation.

JACOBY ON BRIDGE

Proper Finesse Pays Dividends

By OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Service

Is it ever correct to finesse against a queen in one direction and then to take another finesse in the other direction against the same queen? This is such an obvious howler that one of the oldest jokes in bridge is the anecdote about the player who took a two-way finesse for a queen. It worked one way, so he took it the other way. Bridge players are easy to amuse (thank goodness!) so this joke always brings down the house.

After all these years of amusement, we now have a hand in which this ridiculous two-way finesse is the correct play.

West opens the king of spades against the very normal contract of four hearts. Dummy wins with the ace of spades, and declarer immediately leads a low heart from the dummy and finesses the jack.

If West takes the queen of hearts, South has no further problem. He can ruff a spade return in dummy, draw trumps, and run the clubs.

If West is a fine player he will perceive all of this as soon as the dummy comes down. Hence West will play a low heart very casually at the second trick, giving South the impression that his finesse has succeeded.

If South relies on this impression and leads a heart to the king, the hand will collapse. He cannot force out the queen of hearts without losing three spades and a diamond. His best try is to take the ten of clubs, ruff a spade in dummy, and play high clubs. West ruffs early, however, and defeats the contract by taking two spades and a diamond.

South cannot tell that West is adopting this brilliant defense when his jack of hearts wins the second trick. To guard against it, however, South returns the ten of hearts and finesses in the opposite direction. This assures the contract.

Pickles Add Extra Flavor To Snacks and Roast Veal

By GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Food and Markets Editor

We just experimented with two pickle recipes. Mrs. Paul Bond of New York gave them to us. Her husband is an artist. You'll say she is too, when you eat her pickle dishes.

Pickle Egg Appeizer Pie
(Makes 1 7-inch pie)

Four hard-cooked eggs, finely chopped, ¼ cup finely chopped dill pickles, 1 tablespoon prepared mustard, 2 tablespoons vinegar, 1/3 cup mayonnaise, salt and pepper to taste, ¼ pound liverwurst, mashed, 1 7-inch crosswise slice round pumpernickel bread, ½-inch thick.

Combine eggs, pickle, onion, mustard, vinegar, 3 tablespoons mayonnaise and salt and pepper; mix well. Combine liverwurst and; remaining mayonnaise blend thoroughly. Spread egg mixture on bread.

Decorate with liverwurst mixture forced through pastry tube. Garnish with additional pickles and pimento, as desired.

Pickled Veal Roast
(Makes 8 servings) ....

One 3½ pound veal roast, boned and rolled, 1/3 cup chopped onions, 1/3 cup chopped sweet fresh cucumber pickles, salt and pepper, 1 cup sweet cucumber pickle liquid.

Unroll veal and spread with onions and pickles. Sprinkle with salt and pepper. Roll and tie securely. Pour pickle liquid over veal and chill overnight. Place veal on rack in shallow pan.

Roast, uncovered, in slow oven (300 degrees F.) 3 to 3 1/3 hours, or until meat thermometer registers 170 degrees and meat is tender. Baste occasionally with pickle liquid.

TOMORROW'S DINNER: Pickled veal roast, stuffed baked potatoes, buttered asparagus, French bread, butter or mar- ...ch celer... strawberry cream cake, coffee, tea, milk.

Dairy Statistics

Troy, Vt. (AP)—The Vermont building at the Eastern States Exposition will exhibit two 3700-pound cheeses this summer—to help focus attention on the Green Mountain State's cheddar. To make such a cheese, the United Farmers of New England says, requires the milk for one day from about 1,300 average cows — about 17,000 quarts. Aging time is 15 months. There is enough cheese for 60,000 sandwiches which would require 6,000 loaves of bread. If you like butter in your sandwiches, the dairy farmers would have to supply about 1,200 pounds—made from 12,000 quarts of milk.

Helena (AP)—King Gustaf VI Adolf of Sweden has appointed Montana Gov. J. Hugo Aronson representative of the Grand Masonic Lodge of Sweden to the Montana Grand Lodge. The king's appointment letter was in Swedish and it was accompanied by an English translation. However, Montana's Swedish-born governor could read the original.

Lucky Arrest

Norfolk, Va. (AP)—State Trooper Walter Branch tells this one: Branch got up to 95 miles per hour before he was able to halt a speeding motorist. Branch said he was just plain mad when he saw that the speeder was accompanied by his wife and a small child. The driver emerged with a scowl on his face, denied he was driving as fast as the trooper said, and began to express his opinion of the officer in no uncertain terms. Having developed a thick skin Branch let the remarks fall on deaf ears as he wrote out a summons to court. Just then a tire blew out on a front wheel of the motorist's car. "Friend, if I hadn't stopped you I might have been called to help gather up the bodies of your wife and child," Branch said. The officer said the speeder acted as if he had been hit by a .45 calibre bullet. "If there ever was a damn fool who needed a traffic ticket I'm one," the speeder said.

The Mature Parent

Ignoring Teen-Age Struggle Makes Growing Up Harder

By MRS. MURIEL LAWRENCE

A reader is shocked by a recent column on an experience with my adolescent daughter.

She had defied my judgment about what time to leave a party. I retaliated with an angry threat to withdraw all guidance from her. She didn't answer—and suddenly, I realized my threat had frightened her. I saw the defiance was not self-confidence, but the absence of it. So I rushed to her with my trust of her judgment on the time to leave the party.

She exercised it responsibly.

My shocked reader writes: "You will suffer for this mistake. Children are subject to parents. They are obliged to obey insofar as the parent does not make a sinful demand."

Does this reader deny an adolescent child all exercise of his own conscience?

Oh, how hard we can make growing up if we don't register the struggles it involves.

We register the infant's. We are kind to the baby we are weaning when he screams to be returned to the breast. Clearly we see that our shriking baby has no trust at all in his own progress but wants to stay attached to us, an unadventurous suckling.

But when our 17-year-old attacks us for refusing a weekend visit to strangers, we're not so discerning. The fact that she's fighting us for the same reason she screamed when we were weaning her, escapes us. Then she raged because the comforting familiarity of our milk had been removed from her. Now she rages because the comforting familiarity of our moral approval has been removed from her. And she is terrified to adventure into that weekend without it.

To know that is true is good. To know that it's natural is even better.

For knowing it as natural truth, we can be kind to the child whom growth must wean from security in our conscience to security in her own.

With tenderness instead of anger, we can say: "My dearest daughter, one day you will be so sure of yourself that what we think won't count. The confusion is, it isn't here yet. You haven't lived long enough to trust yourself more than you trust us. So stop pretending that our opinion of this weekend doesn't count. It does count. You're just not ready to risk an adventure that we disapprove of. If it ended in hurt, it might take too long a time before you could believe in another one."

Obedience can be "subjection." It can also be instruction in self-preservation.

JACOBY ON BRIDGE

Proper Finesse Pays Dividends

By OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Service

Is it ever correct to finesse against a queen in one direction and then to take another finesse in the other direction against the same queen? This is such an obvious howler that one of the oldest jokes in bridge is the anecdote about the player who took a two-way finesse for a queen. It worked one way, so he took it the other way. Bridge players are easy to amuse (thank goodness!) so this joke always brings down the house.

After all these years of amusement, we now have a hand in which this ridiculous two-way finesse is the correct play.

West opens the king of spades against the very normal contract of four hearts. Dummy wins with the ace of spades, and declarer immediately leads a low heart from the dummy and finesses the jack.

If West takes the queen of hearts, South has no further problem. He can ruff a spade return in dummy, draw trumps, and run the clubs.

If West is a fine player he will perceive all of this as soon as the dummy comes down. Hence West will play a low heart very casually at the second trick, giving South the impression that his finesse has succeeded.

If South relies on this impression and leads a heart to the king, the hand will collapse. He cannot force out the queen of hearts without losing three spades and a diamond. His best try is to take the ten of clubs, ruff a spade in dummy, and play high clubs. West ruffs early, however, and defeats the contract by taking two spades and a diamond.

South cannot tell that West is adopting this brilliant defense when his jack of hearts wins the second trick. To guard against it, however, South returns the ten of hearts and finesses in the opposite direction. This assures the contract.

Pickles Add Extra Flavor To Snacks and Roast Veal

By GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Food and Markets Editor

We just experimented with two pickle recipes. Mrs. Paul Bond of New York gave them to us. Her husband is an artist. You'll say she is too, when you eat her pickle dishes.

Pickle Egg Appeizer Pie
(Makes 1 7-inch pie)

Four hard-cooked eggs, finely chopped, ¼ cup finely chopped dill pickles, 1 tablespoon prepared mustard, 2 tablespoons vinegar, 1/3 cup mayonnaise, salt and pepper to taste, ¼ pound liverwurst, mashed, 1 7-inch crosswise slice round pumpernickel bread, ½-inch thick.

Combine eggs, pickle, onion, mustard, vinegar, 3 tablespoons mayonnaise and salt and pepper; mix well. Combine liverwurst and; remaining mayonnaise blend thoroughly. Spread egg mixture on bread.

Decorate with liverwurst mixture forced through pastry tube. Garnish with additional pickles and pimento, as desired.

Pickled Veal Roast
(Makes 8 servings) ....

One 3½ pound veal roast, boned and rolled, 1/3 cup chopped onions, 1/3 cup chopped sweet fresh cucumber pickles, salt and pepper, 1 cup sweet cucumber pickle liquid.

Unroll veal and spread with onions and pickles. Sprinkle with salt and pepper. Roll and tie securely. Pour pickle liquid over veal and chill overnight. Place veal on rack in shallow pan.

Roast, uncovered, in slow oven (300 degrees F.) 3 to 3 1/3 hours, or until meat thermometer registers 170 degrees and meat is tender. Baste occasionally with pickle liquid.

Dairy Statistics

Troy, Vt. (AP)—The Vermont building at the Eastern States Exposition will exhibit two 3700-pound cheeses this summer—to help focus attention on the Green Mountain State's cheddar. To make such a cheese, the United Farmers of New England says, requires the milk for one day from about 1,300 average cows — about 17,000 quarts. Aging time is 15 months. There is enough cheese for 60,000 sandwiches which would require 6,000 loaves of bread. If you like butter in your sandwiches, the dairy farmers would have to supply about 1,200 pounds—made from 12,000 quarts of milk.

Royal Honors

Helena (AP)—King Gustaf VI Adolf of Sweden has appointed Montana Gov. J. Hugo Aronson representative of the Grand Masonic Lodge of Sweden to the Montana Grand Lodge. The king's appointment letter was in Swedish and it was accompanied by an English translation. However, Montana's Swedish-born governor could read the original.

Lucky Arrest

Norfolk, Va. (AP)—State Trooper Walter Branch tells this one: Branch got up to 95 miles per hour before he was able to halt a speeding motorist. Branch said he was just plain mad when he saw that the speeder was accompanied by his wife and a small child. The driver emerged with a scowl on his face, denied he was driving as fast as the trooper said, and began to express his opinion of the officer in no uncertain terms. Having developed a thick skin Branch let the remarks fall on deaf ears as he wrote out a summons to court. Just then a tire blew out on a front wheel of the motorist's car. "Friend, if I hadn't stopped you I might have been called to help gather up the bodies of your wife and child," Branch said. The officer said the speeder acted as if he had been hit by a .45 calibre bullet. "If there ever was a damn fool who needed a traffic ticket I'm one," the speeder said.

Announcer (pleasantly)—That depends on where you're going.

Little Old Lady—You're very impertinent. What business is it of yours where I am going? But if you must know, I am bound for Boston.

A little old lady came up to one of the train announcers at Grand Central and said:

Little Old Lady—Young man, where do I catch my train?

Announcer (pleasantly)—That depends on where you're going.

Little Old Lady—You're very impertinent. What business is it of yours where I am going? But if you must know, I am bound for Boston.

The announcer obligingly picked up her three bags, found her a seat in the Boston coach, and put the bags on the rack above her head. As he descended to the platform, the old lady leaned out the window and cackled at him.

Little Old Lady—I guess I fooled you, you impertinent young man. I'm really going to Buffalo.

INVITING BOY FRIEND'S PARENTS

A young woman writes me as follows: "My boy friend, whose home is in another state, is graduating from a college in my home town. I met his mother and father some time ago; in fact I stayed at their house for a few days, but my family has never met them. May I write to her and ask her and her husband to stay with us when they are here for their son's graduation?"

You cannot invite them, but your mother might do so by writing something like this to his mother: "Mary has told me so much about you that I feel that you and your husband are old friends, and I would like so much to have you both stay with us when you come here for your son's graduation."

Introducing First Husband's Mother

Dear Mrs. Post: My daughter (who was a widow) has recently remarried. I would like to know how she should introduce her first husband's mother with whom she has remained friendly, to the friends of her present husband. (Her present husband's mother is living). My daughter has been introducing her as, "My mother-in-law — Mrs. Blank" which I think is incorrect. Will you please tell us what is proper in this situation?

Answer: She should introduce her as "Mrs. Blank" and, if necessary, add, "My first husband's mother."

Verbal Thanks For Dinner

Dear Mrs. Post: Was saying "thank you" enough when leaving the house of strange hosts who were very kind to invite me to come with a friend to their house for dinner? I shall probably never be able to give these people any return invitation.

Answer: "Thank you" is proper so far as it goes, but you should say a little more than just these words. For instance, "Thank you for letting Mary bring me — I've enjoyed the evening very much" or if you like them especially well, it would be quite all right to say, "It's been such a pleasure to meet you."

Young people frequently write Mrs. Post about manners in their groups. Mrs. Post is sorry she cannot answer personal mail. Calls for Price List

Hartford, Conn., May 24 (AP)—Rep. Garrett Burkitt (D-Ansonia) charging that large milk dealers pay less for milk than small ones, has tried again to obtain what he calls "the secret price list" of State Milk Administrator Donald O. Hammerberg. Burkitt brought up again in the House a resolution to force Hammerberg to make the price list public. Last week the resolution was turned down. Yesterday the House referred it to the agriculture committee. During yesterday's debate, House Leader Norman K. Parsells (R-Fairfield) read a long letter from Hammerberg. Hammerberg said there was no secret list.

The expectation of life for white females in the United exceeds that of males by about six years at birth.

Predicts Higher School Aid in '56

Ithaca, N. Y., May 24 (AP)—State Comptroller Arthur Levitt predicts that State Aid for Education will be higher "in all groups of school districts" a year from now.

Levitt declared in a speech at Tompkins County Democratic Committee dinner last night that "Gov. Harriman's determined policy" and the growth of enrollment in the schools indicated an increase.

Levitt noted that Republicans had contended during last fall's political campaign that the Democratic party would cut education aid upstate. He said:

"A YEAR FROM NOW, I can tell you authoritatively, the amount of State Aid for Education will be higher in all groups of school districts—cities, villages and supervisory districts. How does that compare with last fall's campaign?"

Levitt added, "you were told that if the Democratic ticket was elected, every county north of Yonkers would lose state aid, in various specific amounts. It simply has not happened that way."

Town With Teeth

Columbia, S. C. (AP)—Just how many false teeth are lying around the streets? police are asking. Officer G. A. Shealy recovered one set which a soldier lost down a gutter drain after he coughed at the wrong time. Meanwhile, however, there was a news story about the soldier's plight and a woman reported she had found his teeth. Ownership of the second set has not been determined.

Youth Crime Rises

New York (AP) — Juvenile delinquents (children under 16) in New York's Domestic Relations Court rose 15 per cent between 1953 and 1954. The number of 16-to-21 offenders in other courts rose nearly 53 per cent in the same period.

Divorcee Asking 15 Millions Now

New York, May 24 (AP)—The former wife of Canadian multimillionaire Vernon G. Cardy is suing him for 15 million dollars, claiming she is entitled to the money under Canada's Community Property Law.

Mrs. Hilda Bouvier Cardy, in a State Supreme Court action made known yesterday, charges she agreed to $1,400-a-month permanent alimony at the time of their divorce in 1950 only because of Cardy's "nerve-wracking campaign of duress . . ."

SHE CONTENDS that Cardy, who climbed from bellhop to a hotel chain owner while still in his 30s, amassed his fortune while married to her and thus she is entitled to half. She said Cardy was worth 30 million dollars when they parted.

Cardy, almost a legendary personality in Canadian financial and sport circles, was not available at the Garden City, (N.Y.) hotel where he is staying. He is presently racing his thoroughbreds at Belmont Park.

Learn to Laugh!

Chicago (AP)—Laughing at the boss' jokes makes for a clever secretary says Wilbert E. Scheer, who helps operate a secretarial school. It's just as important to her career as her ability to run a typewriter, take dictation and file letters. It makes the boss feel good, he says, to have his help appreciate his "funnies." Besides, it makes his job easier. After all, that's the reason for a secretary, he says.

Subversive List Called Misleading

Kiamesha Lake, May 24 (AP)—Harry P. Cain, a member of the U. S. Subversive Activities Control Board, says the U. S. attorney general's list of subversive organizations is a "vastly misleading" security measure.

Cain, Republican former senator from Washington, recommends a revised list—with each organization described and the period of its existence stated.

Cain made his criticism last night in addressing a Civil Liberties panel of the Anti-Defamation League of B'nai B'rith.

THE ANNUAL convention of District Lodge No. 1 of B'nai B'rith will end here tomorrow.

Cain noted that the attorney general's list was prepared in 1947 to guide in the screening of federal jobholders and applicants.

He said 150 of the 275 organizations on the original list have long since gone out of existence. He added that only about 20 to 30 of the 275 were "fronts" for the Communist conspiracy as defined by the Internal Security Act of 1950.

Differ on Penalty

Hartford, Conn., May 24 (AP)—Republicans and Democrats on the General Assembly's Judiciary Committee have differed on bills that would do away with the death penalty for murders in Connecticut. The Republican section turned down one such bill. At the same time yesterday the Senate section approved a similar bill. If the Democratic-controlled Senate passes the bill, it must go to the Republican-controlled House where it faces almost certain opposition. Some observers feel yesterday's action ruled out the possibility of passage of such a bill this session.

Changes Okayed On Power Shift In Tammany Hall

New York, May 24 (AP)—Tammany Hall has approved by-laws changes designed to transfer power from Democratic party leaders to rank-and-file members.

One provides for the direct election of Assembly District leaders at primaries. Up to now they have been chosen by district members of the county committee.

The amendments were approved yesterday by the executive committee of the New York county (Manhattan) committee, and were ratified last night at a meeting of the full county committee.

THEY WERE sponsored by Carmine G. DeSapio, leader of Tammany Hall.

The new procedure provides for the election of women co-leaders in each district on an independent basis. Heretofore they have been teamed with the male leader candidates and have won or lost with them.

Another change is abolition of the five "synthetic" votes in the Tammany executive committee.

Thus, a Manhattan leader no longer could remain in office after he had lost the support of a majority of the district leaders in the county. The change reduces the number of votes in the executive committee from 21 to 16—1 for each Assembly District in Manhattan.

Orders Motor Pool Out

Albany, May 24 (AP)—Gov. Harriman, in an economy move, has ordered that a motor pool in New York city for the governor's staff be discontinued. Harriman said yesterday in announcing the action that the state had spent $15,000 to operate the three-car pool in the last fiscal year, not including the cost and maintenance of the automobiles. The cost included $10,240 for drivers' salaries, $1,003 for their expenses and $2,202 for storage in the Rockefeller Plaza garage.

Track Bill Defeated

Trenton, May 24 (AP)—The New Jersey Assembly Monday defeated a bill cutting the number of authorized harness race tracks in the state from four to one. Only one is now in operation, at Freehold.

Urges Defense Agreement

Albany, N. Y., May 24 (AP)—Atty. Gen. Jacob K. Javits last night urged a mutual defense agreement between the United States and Israel as a means of stabilizing the Near East. Javits said there could be no complaints from the Arab states "in view of the willingness of our country to enter into similar regional defense or security agreements with the Arab states." He spoke at a dinner given in his honor by the New York State Region of the Zionist Organization of America.

Here's why PONTIAC WINS BUYERS FROM EVERY OTHER MAKE

It's a king-sized luxury car— Biggest at its price!

Pontiac is a big, roomy car with 122" or 124" wheelbase—longest in its price field, even longer than some models in the top price range—and with true big-car stability to match. For quality of fabrics, conveniences and appointments, Pontiac compares with the costliest cars.

It's a 200-horsepower performer— Most powerful at its price!

As the only car with the Strato-Streak V-8, Pontiac has a big performance advantage. This newest and most efficient V-8 enables Pontiac to provide more power than any car has ever delivered at Pontiac's price—a full 200 h.p. with the 4-barrel carburetor, an extra cost option; 180 h.p. is standard.

It's a future-fashioned beauty— Most distinctive at any price!

Style-conscious motorists turn to Pontiac for true mode-of-tomorrow design, beautifully different from any other car. Exclusive Vogue Two-Tone styling, Twin-Streaked hood and low, rakish lines give you a car that you know will remain a prideful possession for years to come.

It's America's topmost value— Greatest buy of any year!

Pontiac is selling at the fastest rate of all time for this simple reason: America agrees—when you can get the size, power, beauty and luxury you want at Pontiac's easy price, that's the place to put your money. Come in and get all the facts.

You can buy a big, 200-horsepower Strato-Streak V-8 Pontiac for less than many models of the lowest-priced cars and for much less than stripped economy models of higher-priced makes—none of which equal Pontiac in combined power, size and future-fashioned beauty.

CAN YOU SEE, STEER, STOP SAFELY? CHECK YOUR CAR—CHECK ACCIDENTS.

Grass Comes Back

Chicago (AP)—Grass offers the only hope for saving the vast dust-bowl area of the nation, says Prof. Milton E. Parker, director of food engineering at Illinois Institute of Technology. He predicts grass will be a top U. S. crop for 1955 because of changes in the government price-support program. He gives these reasons for praising the practice: It will prepare much of the country's acreage for future demands of an expanding population. Wartime demands and peacetime price-supports have caused intensified farming which has come "perilously close" to exhausting much of the soil. Grass returns vital organic matter to the soil. On watersheds, it helps control floors and prevents silt from ruining hydroelectric dams. It controls erosion. It hold soil where winds can't grab it. The farmer can reap substantial profits from grass by raising cattle.

Trinity to Hold Wesley Service Thursday Night

The congregation of Trinity Methodist Church will participate in a John Wesley service Thursday, May 26, at 8 p. m. in commemoration of his life and founding of the Methodist Church.

A special sermon subject for the service, "In His Word Do I Hope," will be given by the Rev. John Riebhoff, pastor.

It was on May 24, 1738, when John Wesley attended a society meeting at Aldersgate street that a new conviction and religious experience opened up his heart and mind. On that evening he listened to the reading of Luther's preface to the Romans. Later he said "I felt my heart strangely warned. I felt I did trust in Christ—Christ alone." From that hour on, for 53 years, he ministered to people everywhere.

When Wesley's Conference met in 1769 in Leeds, Mr. Wesley asked the question "We have a pressing call from our brethren in New York who have built a preaching house, to come over and help them. Who is willing to go?" Two ministers responded to the call and were then sent by the conference.

SWIV SHAMPOO

HERE are the FACTS about SWIV SHAMPOO

Swiv contains Lustrezol, a wonderful new conditioner which is far superior to lanolin—Lustrezol is so different that it can be used in much larger amounts than ever before has been possible with lanolin—that's why you can now get the same loveliness with dry or oily hair as those with normal hair enjoy.

Do you know that water alone will dry your hair because it removes natural oils. Lustrezol counteracts the drying effects of water because it dissolves in water—your hair simply cannot dry out.

Swiv shampoo is very pure—Try this simple test yourself: Put a bottle of Swiv in the freezing compartment of your refrigerator overnight. Next day examine and see how crystal clear Swiv remains. Most popular brands of shampoo become cloudy or separate in this test.

Another fact about Swiv—It has long been recognized that when you rinse your hair after shampooing, if it squeaks it's a sign your hair is clean. Swiv is unique because each of the three types that are available—for dry, normal and oily hair—gives you squeaky hair—It is truly amazing when even Swiv for dry hair gives you squeaky hair because dry hair shampoos usually don't have this feature—This is possible with Swiv because of Lustrezol.

So if you desire refreshingly clean, silky soft, completely manageable and brilliantly shiny hair, you owe it to yourself to try one of three types of Swiv shampoo made just for your type of hair:

Swiv, Type D — for dry hair or hair which is hard to manage because it is coarse or baby-fine. Type D is also very good right after a permanent.

Swiv, Type N — For normal hair.

Swiv, Type O — For oily hair.

Swiv shampoo is a product of 5½ years development by local research chemists—Swiv has been tested by an independent laboratory and found to be mild—Swiv is already being used by a number of satisfied customers.

Swiv is now available at all drugstores and leading beauty shops in Kingston, Saugerties and Woodstock—Introductory offer — 30c for 2 oz. bottle (½ oz. more than other popular brands selling for 30c)—Swiv will be found in the square bottle with a golden label.

SWIV SHAMPOO
HERE are the FACTS about SWIV SHAMPOO

Swiv contains Lustrezol, a wonderful new conditioner which is far superior to lanolin—Lustrezol is so different that it can be used in much larger amounts than ever before has been possible with lanolin—that's why you can now get the same loveliness with dry or oily hair as those with normal hair enjoy.

Do you know that water alone will dry your hair because it removes natural oils. Lustrezol counteracts the drying effects of water because it dissolves in water—your hair simply cannot dry out.

Swiv shampoo is very pure—Try this simple test yourself: Put a bottle of Swiv in the freezing compartment of your refrigerator overnight. Next day examine and see how crystal clear Swiv remains. Most popular brands of shampoo become cloudy or separate in this test.

Another fact about Swiv—It has long been recognized that when you rinse your hair after shampooing, if it squeaks it's a sign your hair is clean. Swiv is unique because each of the three types that are available—for dry, normal and oily hair—gives you squeaky hair—It is truly amazing when even Swiv for dry hair gives you squeaky hair because dry hair shampoos usually don't have this feature—This is possible with Swiv because of Lustrezol.

So if you desire refreshingly clean, silky soft, completely manageable and brilliantly shiny hair, you owe it to yourself to try one of three types of Swiv shampoo made just for your type of hair:

Swiv, Type D — for dry hair or hair which is hard to manage because it is coarse or baby-fine. Type D is also very good right after a permanent.

Swiv, Type N — For normal hair.

Swiv, Type O — For oily hair.

Swiv shampoo is a product of 5½ years development by local research chemists—Swiv has been tested by an independent laboratory and found to be mild—Swiv is already being used by a number of satisfied customers.

Swiv is now available at all drugstores and leading beauty shops in Kingston, Saugerties and Woodstock—Introductory offer — 30c for 2 oz. bottle (½ oz. more than other popular brands selling for 30c)—Swiv will be found in the square bottle with a golden label.

Cites Split Effort Over Formosa Case

Washington, May 24 (AP)—Sen. H. Alexander Smith (R.-N. J.) forecast today a Russian effort at the prospective top-level Big Four conference to split the United States and Britain over Formosa.

Smith, a member of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, said in an interview he believes the Soviets "will throw the Formosa matter into the conference to try to split us away from Britain."

British leaders generally have advocated a settlement under which the Chinese Nationalist-held island of Formosa would be placed under a United Nations trusteeship.

This government has taken no firm position on the eventual status of Formosa, but has a treaty with Chiang Kai-shek pledging to help defend it in the event of attack by the Chinese Reds.

Britain has been cool also toward Chiang's claims to the offshore islands of Quemoy and Matsu. The Eisenhower Administration has declined to say whether it will help to defend them in case of Communist attack.

Approval Given By Presbyterians To Ordain Women

Los Angeles, May 24 (AP)—Should women be ordained as preachers?

"Yes," says the 167th General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in the United States of America. Its approval yesterday by a vote of about three or four to one now goes to the church's 256 Presbyteries or local groups. A majority must vote approval.

During lively floor debate, the Rev. Victor G. Dawe of Framingham, Mass., declared:

"TOO OFTEN when women have felt themselves called to be bishops it has resulted in cults and heresies. Witness Mary Baker Eddy in Boston and Aimee Semple McPherson here in Los Angeles."

(The late Mrs. Eddy was the founder of Christian Science. The late Mrs. McPherson was a colorful evangelist who founded the Church of Foursquare Gospel.)

The Rev. LeRoy Patrick, Pittsburgh, Pa., replied:

"WE SIN AGAINST women when we say that cults and heresies are associated peculiarly with them. The Christian faith has been history's most potent force in elevating women. I, for one, do not fear their ordination."

A committee report urging their ordination said the Bible teaches "in Christ Jesus there is neither male nor female" and commented: "There is no theological ground for denying ordination to women simply because they are women."

Late today the delegates take up the report of the standing committee on social education and action. A preliminary report, from which the committee devised the report to be disclosed today, called for the launching of a racial "operation desegregation" in the church.

Pat Ward's Pal Promises Support

New York, May 24 (AP)—Manuel Trujillo, former pal of ex-call girl Pat Ward, has promised in domestic relations court to get a job and start supporting his wife and two children.

Trujillo was arrested for non-support during the compulsory prostitution trial of oleo heir Minot F. (Mickey) Jelke, at which Miss Ward was the star witness for the state.

Court officials said Trujillo, whose name is listed in court records as James Coyle, was $647 behind in support payments to his wife, Lorraine, at the time of his arrest.

A $500 bond was posted to guarantee payments. Jelke's stepfather, Ralph Teal, of Danbury, Conn., paid the bondsman's fee.

Trujillo appeared in court yesterday afternoon.

Justice Louis Pagnucco gave Trujillo until June 11 to start paying $12 for the support of his wife and children plus $3 a week toward paying off arrears.

Do You Remember

By SOPHIE MILLER

From time to time I am asked if George Washington really visited Kingston. There certainly is proof that he was here on November 16, 1782 and no doubt every member of the Reformed Dutch Church will agree as there is a letter written in Washington's own handwriting to prove it. I have before me a good photograph of this letter which I bought at a recent rummage sale. With the aid of a magnifying glass the photograph is readable although I understand the letter itself, which is much larger than the photo, is clearer and very easy to read. Washington had an excellent handwriting. It seems the letter itself is in a glass frame over which is printed the following: "Autograph reply of his excellency, George Washington, Commander-in-Chief to the Address of the ministers, elders and deacons of this church, on the occasion of his excellency's visit to Kingston, in November, 1782." Further it is stated: "Restored to the ministers, elders and deacons of the Reformed Protestant Dutch Church in Kingston by DeWitt Roosa 1887."

The body of the letter, not only autographed but written by Washington in his own handwriting, reads as follows: "Gentlemen: I am happy in receiving this public mark of the esteem of the Minister, Elders and Deacons of the Reformed Protestant Dutch Church in Kingston." Second paragraph follows: "Convinced that our religious liberties were as essential as our civil, my endeavors have never been wanting to encourage & promote the one, while I have been contending for the other—and I am highly flattered by finding that my efforts have met the approbation of so respectable a body." The third paragraph: "In return for your kind concern for my temporal & eternal happiness, permit me to assure you that my wishes are reciprocal—and that you may be enabled to hand down your religion pure & undefiled to a posterity worthy of their ancestors is the fervent prayer of." The next line reads: "Gen. W." followed by this line: "Yr Most Obed Ser" and signed "G. Washington." In the left lower corner he wrote "Kingston" over "16th Nov." with brackets around it with 1782 on other side of brackets. No doubt that was the form that was used in those days. That was some 175 years ago.

Much has happened in this country since George Washington visited Kingston but the language remains the same and even much of the spelling is unchanged. He wrote a careful and accurate hand and dated his letters which is more than is often done today. His date is written so carefully that there is no mistaking the 1782. For one thing he was a frontier surveyor from 1748 to 1750 and accuracy and figures are important in that work. He studied mathematics and surveying at the age of 16. So the first President of the United States at the age of 16 was doing the all important work of surveying the frontier. How does that compare with what the youth of the same age do today? In those days they did not have time to waste their youthful years and many worked long before that, which seemed to have added experience and manhood to their coming years. It certainly did not stunt their growth or in any other way harm their youthful years. I wonder what George Washington would have said about the juvenile delinquency question of today.

Leaves From Boyle's Notebook

New York (AP)—What is the magic of Manhattan?

Cynics have been predicting for some time that the flight to the suburbs would eventually turn this heart island of New York city into a ghost town on the Hudson—the world's largest pigeon roost. Some people, perhaps, rather hoped this would happen.

But what has really happened? No grass is growing in Wall street yet. In the last 10 years some 21 million square feet of office space has been bulit or is planned in the midtown area. Luxurious new apartment buildings are still springing up like dandelions. The United Nations has lifted a towering new home of class-enclosed hope for the future.

COMMENTING on this spectacular postwar growth, a real estate dealer the other day said, rather wonderingly, there seems to be "some magic in Manhattan that defies logic."

There is a A Magic in Manhattan, the magic of an ever-young town ceaselessly growing through 300 years of continous change.

"The pace here is killing... everybody has a dog-eat-dog attitude...I couldn't live here, feeling so cramped and crowded." These are typical complaints of out-of-town visitors.

"What do you really see in the place?" They ask. "Why, I wouldn't take Manhattan as a gift."

BUT AS THEY leave for their home town, they wonder secretly if, after all, there isn't something here they have missed.

There is. They have missed the whole thing—the magic in Manhattan.

They have missed the glamour and excitement and power and majesty that make up the real lure of Manhattan. They have a vague dislike of Manhattan, and an active distrust of it. But they don't know enough about Manhattan either to hate it or love it. You have to marry Manhattan to do that. You have to live here.

Manhattan is a mighty melange of money, mystery and melodrama made up of many smells and sights and sounds and an infinite number of voices. Manhattan isn't America, but it is America squeezed up like an accordian—where the mountains are man-made and the prairies have a "keep off the grass" sign.

Manhattan is the true "dream city" of our country. More people travel here to make their dreams come true than to any other city in the world.

THIS IS the talent capital of the 20th century, the market place for every type of genius, whether your skill lies in training fleas, directing a symphony orchestra or building skyscrapers. It is the modern mecca of the writer, the salesman, the artist, the businessman, the chef, the boxer, the scholar and the con man. Whatever you can do, here is your market and your audience.

Manhattan is less lovely than Paris, less livable than London, less casually friendly than any major American metropolis. But it holds more grandeur than ancient Rome, and is gradually attaining some of the glory of old Greece.

THERE ARE a thousand accents in Manhattan, but the main accent is on youth. Youth isn't served here, but it has a chance to sell here anything it can dish up that has a new quality or a fresh excitement.

That is the real magic in Manhattan, a city that eternally renews itself by feeding on young dreams: Anything is possible here, whatever you look for you have a feeling you may find it.

Nobody owns Manhattan. It gives you a feeling of belonging to somethig greater than yourself. But anyone who lives here and then goes away knows in his heart that part of him will always belong to Manhattan, and that he has left something behind—usually his dreams.

HAS A PLAN — Indonesian Prime Minister Ali Sastroamidjojo will visit Red China to present his plan for a general agreement on Formosa. Some sources believe both the United States and Red China might find Indonesia acceptable as a mediator for the dispute.

Political Brickbats Fill British Air

London, May 24 (AP)—A barrage of political brickbats filled the British air today as backers of the two major parties tried to liven up the last 48 hours of the election campaign.

The Conservative daily Sketch discovered a "conspiracy within the Socialist party which will rock the nation." In the event of a Labor victory at the polls Thursday, it said, more than half the Socialist candidates are ready to dump placid old Clement Attlee as party leader and supplant him with leftwing firebrand Aneurin Bevan.

THAT WOULD make the wild Welshman prime minister — a prospect calculated to chill the marrow of every staunch Conservative. Bevan once called the Tories "vermin."

On the Socialist side, the Laborite Daily Herald declared that the forthcoming Big Four peace talks are "going sour" in advance and can be saved only by electing a Socialist government.

The Herald said the Russians already are preparing world opinion for a failure of the parley because they think the west called for it just to help Sir Anthony Eden and his Conservatives win the election.

DESPITE the 11th hour outbursts, apathy hung over the campaign like a pea soup fog. But the Conservatives, overwhelming favorites in the betting, had uneasy visions of Tory complacency sparking a Labor upset like Harry S. Truman's 1948 victory over Thomas E. Dewey.

Most legal bookmakers, loaded with bets on the Conservatives at odds as short as 1 to 5, closed shop on the election in order to cut their probable losses.

Agrees to Talks

London, May 24 (AP)—Britain has agreed to join in four-nation talks in Saigon on ways of saving strife-torn South Viet Nam from Communist domination. The talks were proposed May 21 by South Viet Nam Premier Ngo Dinh Diem in letters to the foreign Ministers of the western Big Three.

The original meaning of "carol" was a ring dance, and the carolers danced as they sang.

THE MARQUEE

T.V. — STAGE — RADIO — RECORDS — PEOPLE

By DICK KLEINER

Women make better quiz show contestants than men. Thus spake Alan Gilbert, associate producer of "Break the Bank" (both NBC-Radio and ABC-TV).

"They stand up better under pressure," he says. "And they're calmer. The average woman also has more leisure time than men to read and look at TV. They get a very liberal education this way. So, they're bound to be quicker on the trigger when it comes to answering difficult quiz questions."

And women are pretty good at asking questions, too, as any husband knows.

"How old are they?" he asked.

"My son is 10," said Rise.

"Mine are two and four," said Virginia.

Monteux pulled out a picture. "My son," he said, proudly. "He's 50."

Although "House of Flowers" has finally closed, Diahann Carroll wasn't caught with her hair short. She now has nice, long hair, even as you and I—well you, anyhow.

Diahann is the talented young soprano who supplied some of the brightest moments in the Harold Arlen musical. She's not yet 20, and a glorious, longhair career stretches ahead.

The short hair came about curiously. She'd been appearing in night-clubs and in movies ("Carmen Jones") before she auditioned for "House of Flowers."

"And I'd neglected my hair terribly," she says. "So my hair dresser said he couldn't do anything with it. He insisted on cutting it all off and starting from scratch. Well, here I was with my hair all off and a big audition. I took a picture along and before I sang I showed them the picture.

"And then they asked me to take off my shoes, too. If there's anything less glamorous than a bald, bare-foot girl, I don't know what it could be. But they said they liked my hair short for the part, so I had to keep it like that. Of course, when I heard rumors that the show was going on close, I let it grow. Now it's just about right again."

So there you have the story of Diahann Carroll, all tressed up and nowhere to go. Except on to bigger and better things in music and the theatre.

Nelson Eddy is another show business personality who is spending more and more spare time painting. While he's waiting for the next batch of shortnin' bread to rise, Nelson takes the easel way out and paints the desert scenes around Palm Springs. He won't exhibit any, however.

"I don't wear my art on my sleeve," he says. Must paint in a T-shirt.

Political Brickbats Fill British Air

London, May 24 (AP)—A barrage of political brickbats filled the British air today as backers of the two major parties tried to liven up the last 48 hours of the election campaign.

The Conservative daily Sketch discovered a "conspiracy within the Socialist party which will rock the nation." In the event of a Labor victory at the polls Thursday, it said, more than half the Socialist candidates are ready to dump placid old Clement Attlee as party leader and supplant him with leftwing firebrand Aneurin Bevan.

THAT WOULD make the wild Welshman prime minister — a prospect calculated to chill the marrow of every staunch Conservative. Bevan once called the Tories "vermin."

On the Socialist side, the Laborite Daily Herald declared that the forthcoming Big Four peace talks are "going sour" in advance and can be saved only by electing a Socialist government.

The Herald said the Russians already are preparing world opinion for a failure of the parley because they think the west called for it just to help Sir Anthony Eden and his Conservatives win the election.

DESPITE the 11th hour outbursts, apathy hung over the campaign like a pea soup fog. But the Conservatives, overwhelming favorites in the betting, had uneasy visions of Tory complacency sparking a Labor upset like Harry S. Truman's 1948 victory over Thomas E. Dewey.

Most legal bookmakers, loaded with bets on the Conservatives at odds as short as 1 to 5, closed shop on the election in order to cut their probable losses.

Agrees to Talks

London, May 24 (AP)—Britain has agreed to join in four-nation talks in Saigon on ways of saving strife-torn South Viet Nam from Communist domination. The talks were proposed May 21 by South Viet Nam Premier Ngo Dinh Diem in letters to the foreign Ministers of the western Big Three.

The original meaning of "carol" was a ring dance, and the carolers danced as they sang.

THE MARQUEE

T.V. — STAGE — RADIO — RECORDS — PEOPLE

By DICK KLEINER

Women make better quiz show contestants than men. Thus spake Alan Gilbert, associate producer of "Break the Bank" (both NBC-Radio and ABC-TV).

"They stand up better under pressure," he says. "And they're calmer. The average woman also has more leisure time than men to read and look at TV. They get a very liberal education this way. So, they're bound to be quicker on the trigger when it comes to answering difficult quiz questions."

And women are pretty good at asking questions, too, as any husband knows.

Singers Rise Stevens and Virginia Ruggiero were comparing pictures of their children. They were joined by the veteran conductor, Pierre Monteux.

"How old are they?" he asked.

"My son is 10," said Rise.

"Mine are two and four," said Virginia.

Monteux pulled out a picture. "My son," he said, proudly. "He's 50."

Although "House of Flowers" has finally closed, Diahann Carroll wasn't caught with her hair short. She now has nice, long hair, even as you and I—well you, anyhow.

Diahann is the talented young soprano who supplied some of the brightest moments in the Harold Arlen musical. She's not yet 20, and a glorious, longhair career stretches ahead.

The short hair came about curiously. She'd been appearing in night-clubs and in movies ("Carmen Jones") before she auditioned for "House of Flowers."

"And I'd neglected my hair terribly," she says. "So my hair dresser said he couldn't do anything with it. He insisted on cutting it all off and starting from scratch. Well, here I was with my hair all off and a big audition. I took a picture along and before I sang I showed them the picture.

"And then they asked me to take off my shoes, too. If there's anything less glamorous than a bald, bare-foot girl, I don't know what it could be. But they said they liked my hair short for the part, so I had to keep it like that. Of course, when I heard rumors that the show was going on close, I let it grow. Now it's just about right again."

So there you have the story of Diahann Carroll, all tressed up and nowhere to go. Except on to bigger and better things in music and the theatre.

Poughkeepsie Edges Kingston Nine, 3-2

Shelightner Goes '3 for 3'

Coach Sam Kalloch pulled off a bit of grandiose strategy as Poughkeepsie shaded Kingston High, 3-2, in a DUSO League baseball game halted by rain in the seventh inning yesterday at Dietz Stadium.

The Kallochmen were leading 3-2 in a tight game when Bob Shelightner drilled his third consecutive hit with two outs.

SHELIGHTNER represented the tying run on first base. Bob Maines was the next batter. But Old Sam wasn't taking any chances and he ordered Maines walked.

A moment later it looked like questionable strategy when Frank Turck grounded to second where Johnny Boyer made the last of a series of spectacular stops. But big Monty Stickles, the basketball center, forgot to touch first base and all hands were safe and the bases loaded. Jack Dawkins fanned on a 2-2 pitch to end the threat and Mr. Kalloch heaved a deep sigh of relief.

POUGHKEEPSIE struck quickly for the winning markers in the fifth. George Boyer led off with a walk, J. Boyer boomed a triple over Ronnie Ashdown's head and Tony Versace skied deep to center for two fast runs.

It was a tough game for young Jack Houghtaling to lose. He permitted only five hits in the 6 2/3 innings and was victimized by an error when Poughkeepsie scored its first run in the third.

The Maroons scored a run in the second on two infield outs and a single by Frank Turck. Shelightner tripled to the right field corner to launch the fourth and tallied as J. Boyer made a sensational stab of Maines' grounder to second.

Bob Shelightner collected half of the six Kingston safeties off Allen Smith with two singles and a triple, all three balls hit with considerable authority.

RONNIE ASHDOWN was also impresive at the plate with a solid single in the first and two power shots to the outfield that produced great fielding plays by Sonne and G. Boyer.

Jim Boyer was the whole show for Poughkeepsie with two of their five hits, two runs and a RBI. He reached base three times and was dazzling at second base.

Mike Celuch Whiffs 15 In Glasco LL Opener

Claims Body Blow Not Drugs KOed Harold Johnson

Philadelphia, May 24 (AP)—A terrific body blow, not drugs, stopped Harold Johnson in his May 6 bout with Julio Mederos, one of Mederos' seconds testified yesterday.

Barry W. Cohen, 57, of Springfield, Mass., appearing as a voluntary witness at the fight probe hearing conducted by the Pennsylvania Athletic Commission, said also that he had seen a similar instance of a fighter being stopped so completely by a body blow.

In answer to a question, Cohen said "(Jack) Dempsey caught (Louis) Firpo with exactly the same kind of punch. It took 15 minutes to bring Firpo around."

A year ago Michael Celuch Jr. of East Kingston was seriouly injured in a bicycle accident. His baseball career was in jeopardy.

A few days ago in the Glasco Little League opener, young Celuch, son of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Celuch of East Kingston, showed that his recovery was complete.

Master Celuch permitted only two hits and fanned 15 as the 1954 champion Dodgers routed the Yankees, 13 to 2.

YOUNG CELUCH is a slick little righ hander who comes to the pitching mound by way of a rich heritage. His dad was a pretty fair thrower about 25 years ago and his uncle John was a well known flinger for the Pan Ams and other topnotch clubs in the 1930s.

Paul Natali was clubbed for 11 hits by the Dodgers but wouldn't have permitted so many runs if his defense hadn't collapsed on occasion.

Joe Roberti, the Dodger first sacker and cleanup hitter, behaved just like a No. 4 hitter as he slugged two singles, a double and triple in four trips to the plate. Kithcart had three hits for the Dodgers.

Williams Belts HR In Return

Boston, May 24 (AP)—Ted Williams, aging but still as determined as a rookie, served notice on American League pitchers today he has lost none of the tremendous power which places him among baseball's all-time hitting greats.

The 36-year-old Boston slugger, making his first competitive appearance of the season, belted a 395-foot home run into the right field seats last night as the Red Sox defeated the New York Giants 4-3 in an exhibition game called at the end of 6½ innings.

"IT'S GOOD to get started again," said a weary Williams after retiring from the game following his towering circuit clout as leadoff man in the last of the third inning.

"My legs still feel like lead and I want to work on them for about another week, but I guess my hitting is okay," he added.

Expected to return to the lineup this weekend when the Red Sox play host to Washington, Williams refused to be pinned down. Asked if he planned to return in "a week or 10 days," he replied: "Sooner, I hope."

Roosevelt Feature To Bluett Hanover

Westbury, May 24 (AP) — Bluett Hanover won the one-mile Patchogue pace in 2:04.2 last night at Roosevelt Raceway and snapped the five-race winning streak of First Discovery, a Little Brown Jug eligible.

Stanley Dancer, seeking his sixth straight win at Roosevelt with First Discovery, set the pace from the start but was overtaken 50 yards from the finish by the winner, driven by Billy Haughton.

Poughkeepsie Edges Kingston Nine, 3-2

Shelightner Goes '3 for 3'

Coach Sam Kalloch pulled off a bit of grandiose strategy as Poughkeepsie shaded Kingston High, 3-2, in a DUSO League baseball game halted by rain in the seventh inning yesterday at Dietz Stadium.

The Kallochmen were leading 3-2 in a tight game when Bob Shelightner drilled his third consecutive hit with two outs.

SHELIGHTNER represented the tying run on first base. Bob Maines was the next batter. But Old Sam wasn't taking any chances and he ordered Maines walked.

A moment later it looked like questionable strategy when Frank Turck grounded to second where Johnny Boyer made the last of a series of spectacular stops. But big Monty Stickles, the basketball center, forgot to touch first base and all hands were safe and the bases loaded. Jack Dawkins fanned on a 2-2 pitch to end the threat and Mr. Kalloch heaved a deep sigh of relief.

POUGHKEEPSIE struck quickly for the winning markers in the fifth. George Boyer led off with a walk. J. Boyer boomed a triple over Ronnie Ashdown's head and Tony Versace skied deep to center for two fast runs.

It was a tough game for young Jack Houghtaling to lose. He permitted only five hits in the 6 2/3 innings and was victimized by an error when Poughkeepsie scored its first run in the third.

The Maroons scored a run in the second on two infield outs and a single by Frank Turck. Shelightner tripled to the right field corner to launch the fourth and tallied as J. Boyer made a sensational stab of Maines' grounder to second.

Bob Shelightner collected half of the six Kingston safeties off Allen Smith with two singles and a triple, all three balls hit with considerable authority.

RONNIE ASHDOWN was also impresive at the plate with a solid single in the first and two power shots to the outfield that produced great fielding plays by Sonne and G. Boyer.

Jim Boyer was the whole show for Poughkeepsie with two of their five hits, two runs and a RBI. He reached base three times and was dazzling at second base.

Williams Belts HR In Return

Boston, May 24 (AP)—Ted Williams, aging but still as determined as a rookie, served notice on American League pitchers today he has lost none of the tremendous power which places him among baseball's all-time hitting greats.

The 36-year-old Boston slugger, making his first competitive appearance of the season, belted a 395-foot home run into the right field seats last night as the Red Sox defeated the New York Giants 4-3 in an exhibition game called at the end of 6½ innings.

"IT'S GOOD to get started again," said a weary Williams after retiring from the game following his towering circuit clout as leadoff man in the last of the third inning.

Expected to return to the lineup this weekend when the Red Sox play host to Washington, Williams refused to be pinned down. Asked if he planned to return in "a week or 10 days," he replied: "Sooner, I hope."

Will Play in Moscow

New York, May 24 (AP)—An American chess team, beaten by Russia's crack players last year, is planning a return match in Moscow starting June 29. But the Soviet team, which trounced the Americans 20 points to 12 at New York, will have a new, powerful addition in the forthcoming match. World champion Mikhail Botvinnik plans to play this time. Last year he did not make the trip to the United States, claiming ill health.

Whiskies are taxed by the U. S. Government on the basis of Proof. And although Fleischmann pays $1.03 more per case in taxes than ordinary 86 Proof blends, Fleischmann's costs you less than many lower Proof brands. A sparkling 78 by their No. 4 man enabled Catskill High to shade Kingston, 6½ to 5½, in the Maroons' final match of the regular season, yesterday at the Catskill Country Club links.

The hero was C. Quinn who spliced nines of 41 and 37 for 78 and a 3-0 triumph over Bill Parmelee.

DAVID EYLES picked up three points for Kingston with an 88 and Hank Jacobs shot 86 for two points. John Turck, Kingston's No. 1 shooter, tied Tom Miles, the Catskill ace, in medal with 82 but lost the match 2½ to ½.

Real High Jacking

Spartanburg, S. C. (AP)—Police had a real case of high-jacking on their hands. Thieves jacked up 37 box car wheels on a railway siding and stole journal brass fittings, worth about $240.

CONTRACT TROUBLE—Harold M. Reitan, 31-year-old Chicago, Ill., polio victim paralyzed in both arms, shows how he held a pen in his mouth last summer to sign a contract he's now trying to break. The contract is between Reitan and a former employer, an employment agency. It prevents him from opening a rival firm for one year after leaving the agency. Reitan claims his paralysis makes it difficult to find employment in other fields.

SCORING THE HARD WAY—First baseman Gohier of the St. Johns, Quebec, Canadiens scores a run against the Quebec Braves the hard way—walking on his hands. Actually this is the result of a collision between Gohier and Quebec catcher Ron Lacey in a game at Quebec that St. Johns won, 4 to 3. Lacey dropped the ball. St. Johns leads the Class C Provincial Baseball League by 2½ games. (AP Wirephoto)

BENGALS' SENSATION — Al Kaline, 20-year-old Detroit Tigers outfielder, says he isn't superstitious—these shoes have toes cut out because he's breaking in new ones. Al grew a half-inch and gained 20 pounds since last season and is a greatly improved hitter.

Red Equipment Fails

Tokyo (AP) — Chinese Communist doctors and nurses don't think much of the medical tools they get from Russia, says a Japanese physician recently returned from Red captivity. "They break down too often," says Dr. Katsuhide Akashi in a magazine article. "Russian syringes, for instance, don't stand boiling-disinfectation and break down quickly." He says when instruments are broken, all concerned must take part in numerous "self-criticism conferences" and make "self-criticizing statements." "Therefore, Akashi adds, "even the Chinese doctors and nurses just display the Russian things, but use American or Japanese-made things."

Giants Get Sid Gordon

(By The Associated Press)

The New York Giants, trying to build up their bench in a bid to close in on the Brooklyn Dodgers, have laid out a reported $25,000 to reclaim veteran slugger Sid Gordon from Pittsburgh.

Gordon's return to New York after five years absence was completed in a straight cash deal yesterday.

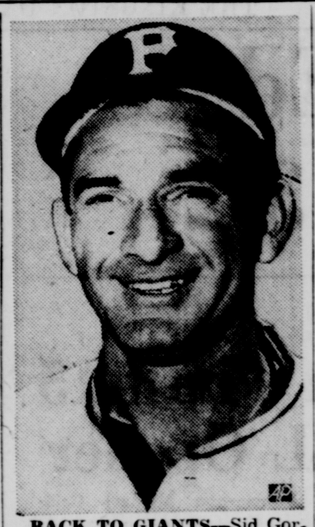
In another move, the slumping Philadelphia Phillies picked up left hander Bob Kuzava from Baltimore for the $10,000 waiver price.

The 36-year-old Gordon, who broke in with the Giants in 1941, was traded to the then Boston Braves late in 1949 by New York along with Willard Marshall, Buddy Kerr and Sam Webb for Alvin Dark and Eddie Stanky. He stayed with the Braves until the winter of 1953, when he was traded to Pittsburgh in a deal that sent Danny O'Connel to Milwaukee.

Akins Kayoes Miceli in 1st

New York, May 24 (AP)—Virgil Akins, a one-time in-and-out fighter, is taking dead aim on the welterweight title now that he has five straight victories, four of them by knockouts.

The solidly built, 25-year old St. Louis Negro stopped jolting Joey Miceli of New York in 2:41 of the first round on three knockdowns to chalk up his fourth successive kayo.



BACK TO GIANTS—Sid Gordon, veteran third baseman and outfielder, was sold to the New York Giants by the Pittsburgh Pirates (May 23). It was a straight cash deal, which sends Gordon, now in his 14th year in the majors, back to the team with whom he began his major league career. (AP Wirephoto)

Hit and Gallop

Florence, S. C. (AP)—Robert Johnson was brought to court for driving through a stop sign with his horse and wagon, crashing into an automobile and leaving the scene before a patrolman arrived. Magistrate Ben Maynard concluded the only covering statute was failure to stop at a sign. He fined Johnson $12. No action was taken against the horse, which sat down on the hood of the car after the collision and kicked out both headlights.

Red Cross to Share in Golf Day Proceeds; Hoffman Appoints Ulster Committee

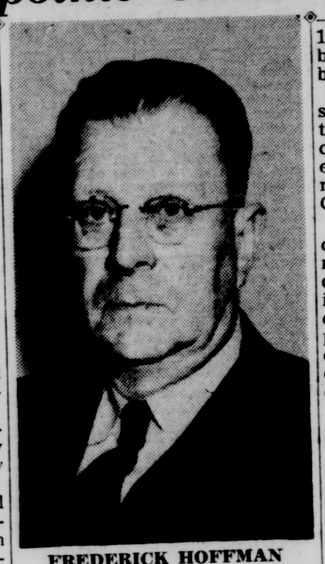
This year for the first time, the National Golf Fund Inc., has allocated a portion of National Golf Day proceeds to the American Red Cross, county chairman, Frederick Hoffman, has announced.

Hoffman has also announced the appointment of Charles J. Tiano, Freeman sports editor, as chairman of the Ulster county committee for the June 5 event.

Assisting on the committee will be Charles E. Burnett, Woodstock Country Club; Adrian Kaplan, the Twaalfskill Club; Harry Thayer, Shawangunk Club (Ellenville).

A representative will be selected for Wiltwyck if the new 18-hole course is playable by June 5.

Golfers across the country will compete against the current national champions—U. S. Open kingpin, Ed Furgol and the fabulous Babe Didrickson Zaharias, the women's national titleholder.



FREDERICK HOFFMAN

The Babe and Ed will play their National Golf Day round at San Francisco's Olympic Club—the course "toughened" for the 1955 U. S. Open championship by Robert Trent Jones, who is building the Wiltwyck course.

The champions play from scratch, of course, with the nation's golfers using full handicaps against their scores. Golfers who do not have handicap ratings will be judged by the Callaway handicap system.

A golfer pays an entry fee of one dollar and may compete as many times as he wishes for additional entry fee. Caddies are invited to compete on their club's caddies day immediately preceding June 4. They will be eligible by contributing a special entry fee of twenty-five cents.

Golfers who beat the scores posted by the champions will receive medals furnished by National Golf Day and Life Magazine. They are bronze medals properly engraved.

More than 300,000 golfers have competed in this popular event the past three years. A record entry is predicted for the 1955 day.

Short Fans 16 for NFA

Southpaw Billy Short yielded only two hits and struck out 16 as Newburgh Academy routed Port Jervis, 13-0 yesterday.

Mickey Burkoski and Jack Schoenberger pounded two-run homers for the Goldbacks. Fred Ropke had a single and double for the two Port Jervis safeties.

World's four longest rivers are Missouri-Mississippi, 4220 miles; Nile, 4000; Amazon, 3900; and the Yangtze, 3400 miles.

Ghost Town Comeback

Rico, Colo. (AP)—This town, whose gold and silver mining history began in 1869 and faded in the early 1900s, is staging a comeback. Surphuric acid, an important ingredient in processing uranium ore soon will be produced at the rate of 150 tons a day in a plant being constructed here. Uranium mills within a 100-mile radius of Rico now depend on supplies from Utah. Most of the workers in the town's 400 population help mine iron pyrite from which the sulphuric acide is made.

More Daylight

Hartford, Conn. (AP)—Under a new Connecticut law, not only is daylight saving time extended to the last Sunday in October, but the governor is empowered to further extend it by proclamation if he thinks it necessary.

No Elephant Fish?

Houston, Tex. (AP)—Sign on a cafe: "Rabbit, Coon, 'Possum and Buffalo Fish."

BIG LEAGUE WAY

FISHING 'BOAT' — Pilot Bill Gallagher of Snyder, N. Y., holds net as companion hauls in a pike on secluded lake sighted from air. "Boat" is a float-equipped Bell 'copter.

For Gorilla Feet

San Diego, Calif. (AP)—The zoo is doing something about its gorillas' aching feet, says Dr. Charles S. Schroeder, director. A resilient rubber floor has been installed in the cage on top of cement which, Schroeder says, was hard on the flat feet of the shoeless gorillas.

Red Cross to Share in Golf Day Proceeds; Hoffman Appoints Ulster Committee

This year for the first time, the National Golf Fund Inc., has allocated a portion of National Golf Day proceeds to the American Red Cross, county chairman, Frederick Hoffman, has announced.

Hoffman has also announced the appointment of Charles J. Tiano, Freeman sports editor, as chairman of the Ulster county committee for the June 5 event.

Assisting on the committee will be Charles E. Burnett, Woodstock Country Club; Adrian Kaplan, the Twaalfskill Club; Harry Thayer, Shawangunk Club (Ellenville).

A representative will be selected for Wiltwyck if the new 18-hole course is playable by June 5.

Golfers across the country will compete against the current national champions—U. S. Open kingpin, Ed Furgol and the fabulous Babe Didrickson Zaharias, the women's national titleholder. The Babe and Ed will play their National Golf Day round at San Francisco's Olympic Club

FREDERICK HOFFMAN

—the course "toughened" for the 1955 U. S. Open championship by Robert Trent Jones, who is building the Wiltwyck course.

The champions play from scratch, of course, with the nation's golfers using full handicaps against their scores. Golfers who do not have handicap ratings will be judged by the Callaway handicap system.

A golfer pays an entry fee of one dollar and may compete as many times as he wishes for additional entry fee. Caddies are invited to compete on their club's caddies day immediately preceding June 4. They will be eligible by contributing a special entry fee of twenty-five cents.

Golfers who beat the scores posted by the champions will receive medals furnished by National Golf Day and Life Magazine. They are bronze medals properly engraved.

More than 300,000 golfers have competed in this popular event the past three years. A record entry is predicted for the 1955 day.

Short Fans 16 for NFA

Southpaw Billy Short yielded only two hits and struck out 16 as Newburgh Academy routed Port Jervis, 13-0 yesterday.

Mickey Burkoski and Jack Schoenberger pounded two-run homers for the Goldbacks. Fred Ropke had a single and double for the two Port Jervis safeties.

World's four longest rivers are Missouri-Mississippi, 4220 miles; Nile, 4000; Amazon, 3900; and the Yangtze, 3400 miles.

Cao Dai Reported Getting French Aid

Saigon, South Viet Nam, May 24 (AP) — The antigovernment pope of the Cao Dai religious sect is receiving financial aid to form his own private army, a source close to Premier Ngo Dinh Diem declared last night.

The informant said Gen. Nguyen Thanh Phuong, commander in chief of the regular Cao Dai forces and a supporter of Diem, had notified the government of the French action.

The report of French collaboration with an enemy of Diem was sharply denied by a spokesman at the office of French Commisioner General Paul Ely.

The government source, however, told newsmen that Phuong had reported an attempt had been made to present a French gift of a million piastres ($28,000) to his own headquarters on May 15. When Phuong ordered the money returned, it was sent by the French to the Cao Dai Religious Council Headquarters at Tay Ninh, the informant said.

The Cao Dai Pope, Pham Cong Tac long at odds with Diem, has assembled about 500 men but they still lack arms, the source continued. They have joined the religious leaders' private army with promises of more money and assurances that they can do their military duty in his force as well as in the National Army.

Query Jims, Joes On Carrier Blondes

San Pedro, Calif., May 24 (AP) —Officers are questioning sailors named "Jim" or "Joe" on the aircraft carrier USS Point Cruz to try to find out how two girls "both blonde—both 17—managed to spend a night aboard the ship.

The Point Cruz is at sea now, on maneuvers. It left yesterday as the story of the two teenagers began to unfold.

They had been missing from their San Pedro homes Saturday night, and returned with a tale of having been kidnapped. Later they told juvenile officers they actually spent the night aboard the Point Cruz, then tied up in San Pedro.

The girls told the officers they went aboard the ship Saturday with Armed Forces Day visitors, were hidden away by two sailor friends they knew only as "Jim" and "Joe," and then went ashore unnoticed in the midst of Sunday's visitors.

from Saugerties, 26 from Woodstock, 21 from New Paltz, 20 from Rosendale, etc. The rest were scattered throughout the county and in resort areas.

Mr. Cullen said IBM would continue to accept and make available to personnel all listings regarding housing facilities.

HE POINTED out that it was hoped present registered facilities would be sufficient to handle the initial students and that when the results of the visitations were known and the build-up of student personnel began in the fall and winter a clearer picture of the housing situation would appear.

"In all cases," he said, "we are suggesting that rental units be made available to anyone satisfactory to the landlords without waiting for our referrals. It is not expected that our student personnel will make any appreciable use of resort facilities this year."

Mr. Cullen said Mr. O'Reilley would carry proper identification credentials with him.

Mr. O'Reilley, a native of Kingston, was educated in Kingston schools, graduating from Kingston High School in 1929. He has been active in many community projects including the Kingston Area Chamber of Commerce, Wiltwyck Hose Company, Rondout Valley Lions Club, Rondout Yacht Club and is a member of the advisory board and appraisal committee of the Rosendale branch of the Bank of Orange County.

Senate Is Seen

Eisenhower to seek a second term.

Sen. Carlson (R-Kan.), floor manager for the administration on the issue, said he would be ready immediately with another bill to provide an average 8 per cent raise for the half million postal employes. That is somewhat higher than the 7.6 per cent figure previously indicated to be the ceiling by the administration.

Carlson's measure would make the raise retroactive to March 1, the same date as in the vetoed bill. It would fix a 6 per cent minimum on the salary boosts, the same as in the administration's previous 7.6 per cent bill.

Cao Dai Reported Getting French Aid

Saigon, South Viet Nam, May 24 (AP) — The antigovernment pope of the Cao Dai religious sect is receiving financial aid to form his own private army, a source close to Premier Ngo Dinh Diem declared last night.

The informant said Gen. Nguyen Thanh Phuong, commander ifi chief of the regular Cao Dai forces and a supporter of Diem, had notified the government of the French action.

The report of French collaboration with an enemy of Diem was sharply denied by a spokesman at the office of French Commisioner General Paul Ely.

The government source, however, told newsmen that Phuong had reported an attempt had been made to present a French gift of a million piastres ($28,000) to his own headquarters on May 15. When Phuong ordered the money returned, it was sent by the French to the Cao Dai Religious Council Headquarters at Tay Ninh, the informant said.

The Cao Dai Pope, Pham Cong Tac long at odds with Diem, has assembled about 500 men but they still lack arms, the source continued. They have joined the religious leaders' private army with promises of more money and assurances that they can do their military duty in his force as well as in the National Army.

Query Jims, Joes On Carrier Blondes

San Pedro, Calif., May 24 (AP) —Officers are questioning sailors named "Jim" or "Joe" on the aircraft carrier USS Point Cruz to try to find out how two girls "both blonde—both 17—managed to spend a night aboard the ship.

The Point Cruz is at sea now, on maneuvers. It left yesterday as the story of the two teenagers began to unfold.

They had been missing from their San Pedro homes Saturday night, and returned with a tale of having been kidnapped. Later they told juvenile officers they actually spent the night aboard the Point Cruz, then tied up in San Pedro.

The girls told the officers they went aboard the ship Saturday with Armed Forces Day visitors, were hidden away by two sailor friends they knew only as "Jim" and "Joe," and then went ashore unnoticed in the midst of Sunday's visitors.

from Saugerties, 26 from Woodstock, 21 from New Paltz, 20 from Rosendale, etc. The rest were scattered throughout the county and in resort areas.

Mr. Cullen said IBM would continue to accept and make available to personnel all listings regarding housing facilities.

HE POINTED out that it was hoped present registered facilities would be sufficient to handle the initial students and that when the results of the visitations were known and the build-up of student personnel began in the fall and winter a clearer picture of the housing situation would appear.

"In all cases," he said, "we are suggesting that rental units be made available to anyone satisfactory to the landlords without waiting for our referrals. It is not expected that our student personnel will make any appreciable use of resort facilities this year."

Mr. Cullen said Mr. O'Reilley would carry proper identification credentials with him.

Mr. O'Reilley, a native of Kingston, was educated in Kingston schools, graduating from Kingston High School in 1929. He has been active in many community projects including the Kingston Area Chamber of Commerce, Wiltwyck Hose Company, Rondout Valley Lions Club, Rondout Yacht Club and is a member of the advisory board and appraisal committee of the Rosendale branch of the Bank of Orange County.

Senate Is Seen

Eisenhower to seek a second term.

Sen. Carlson (R-Kan.), floor manager for the administration on the issue, said he would be ready immediately with another bill to provide an average 8 per cent raise for the half million postal employes. That is somewhat higher than the 7.6 per cent figure previously indicated to be the ceiling by the administration.

Carlson's measure would make the raise retroactive to March 1, the same date as in the vetoed bill. It would fix a 6 per cent minimum on the salary boosts, the same as in the administration's previous 7.6 per cent bill.

CBS Wants More Latitude on Bids

New York, May 24 (AP)—The Columbia Broadcasting System wants a change in law so that it can invite leading presidential candidates to appear on panel discussion television programs without having to give equal time to all other candidates.

This would require a modification of Section 315 of the Communications Act.

CBS President Frank Stanton said it is now impractical to offer major candidates time to appear on discussion programs, because of the rule requiring equal time for all others.

In 1952, he pointed out, there were about 18 "candidates" for president.

"We feel," said Stanton, "that we should be able to do just what responsible newspapers do —be free to exercise our best judgment in deciding the content of our electronic news columns."

More Rain Seen For State Areas

The Weather Bureau here forecast scattered showers and thundershowers for all sections of the state today and more general showers and thunderstorms developing tomorrow.

RAIN LAST NIGHT brought some relief to parched counties of eastern New York, which had gone without for almost a month. The rainfall ranged from 1.10 inches in a 12-hour period at Oneonta to only a trace in other areas.

One downstate spot, around New Paltz in Ulster county, got a 3.6-inch deluge, while Ulster and Dutchess counties reported electrical storms.

Two barns were hit at Stanford in Dutchess county. One was destroyed. The structure and contents were valued at $10,000 to $15,000. The other suffered an estimated $6,000 in damages.

3. Dulles would be very surprised if criticism of U. S., British, and French plans for a Big Four session at the Eisenhower-Bulganin level were designed to change the purposes of the meeting. Dulles expects to see Soviet Foreign Minister Molotov and the foreign ministers of Britain and France at a United Nations anniversary conference in San Francisco at the end of next month. He said they would possibly have further informal talks there on plans for the proposed Summit meeting later.

CBS Wants More Latitude on Bids

New York, May 24 (AP)—The Columbia Broadcasting System wants a change in law so that it can invite leading presidential candidates to appear on panel discussion television programs without having to give equal time to all other candidates.

This would require a modification of Section 315 of the Communications Act.

CBS President Frank Stanton said it is now impractical to offer major candidates time to appear on discussion programs, because of the rule requiring equal time for all others.

In 1952, he pointed out, there were about 18 "candidates" for president.

"We feel," said Stanton, "that we should be able to do just what responsible newspapers do—be free to exercise our best judgment in deciding the content of our electronic news columns."

More Rain Seen For State Areas

The Weather Bureau here forecast scattered showers and thundershowers for all sections of the state today and more general showers and thunderstorms developing tomorrow.

RAIN LAST NIGHT brought some relief to parched counties of eastern New York, which had gone without for almost a month. The rainfall ranged from 1.10 inches in a 12-hour period at Oneonta to only a trace in other areas.

One downstate spot, around New Paltz in Ulster county, got a 3.6-inch deluge, while Ulster and Dutchess counties reported electrical storms.

Two barns were hit at Stanford in Dutchess county. One was destroyed. The structure and contents were valued at $10,000 to $15,000. The other suffered an estimated $6,000 in damages.

The letter asked: "Will you please designate one person who will be our primary contact in carrying out this work. As soon as we are so informed, we will arrange for an appointment to begin the initial phases of the study."

Richmond, Va. (AP)—A taxpayer approached J. M. Barlow and asked for a "tangled up tax form." Barlow, Henrico county's head tax assessor, grinned and hand him what he wanted—an intangible personal property tax form.

Neutrality Policy

crease unrest and demands for freedom in Soviet satellite states.

3. Dulles would be very surprised if criticism of U. S., British, and French plans for a Big Four session at the Eisenhower-Bulganin level were designed to change the purposes of the meeting. The western powers proposed that heads of government deal only with procedures for solving problems but a harsh editorial in Pravda Saturday demanded that they personally tackle major issues.

4. A dispute between Russia and the western powers over the flow of traffic between West Germany and Berlin may be discussed, if necessary, by the Big Four Foreign Ministers.

5. There has been no decision on whether to move American occupation forces out of Austria into Italy to back up North Atlantic pact defenses. The troops are to be pulled out under the new Austrian Independence Treaty and some American officials are known to favor moving at least part of them into Italy, to plug up the Austrian gap in western defense lines.

Dulles expects to see Soviet Foreign Minister Molotov and the foreign ministers of Britain and France at a United Nations anniversary conference in San Francisco at the end of next month. He said they would possibly have further informal talks there on plans for the proposed Summit meeting later.

May Hit Parents

Nashua, N. H., May 24 (AP)—If Nashua juveniles cause any more trouble at night, the 9 o'clock curfew may hit the parents. Three juveniles struck two policemen in an argument Saturday night. As a result Police Chief Joseph L. Regan says he is in favor of invoking a rarely used ordinance making parents subject to court action if they allow children under 16 out alone after 9 p. m.

Three Hurt in Collapse

New York, May 24 (AP)—Police said today three construction laborers suffered leg injuries when the side of an apartment house foundation collapsed in Queens. St. John's Hospital, Long Island City, described the condition of the three as not serious. The three are Joseph De Marinis, 29, Flushing; Carlo Guastello, 33, College Point, and Joseph Forte, 30, Brooklyn.

The president, as commander in chief of the armed forces, names the submarines of the United States.

January 1, 1957 — Coverage will be extended to 200,000 employes in 100,000 firms that have two or more employes on any day.

Other changes benefiting limited numbers of wage earners include the extension of coverage to custodial engineers in Buffalo schools, to workers in state armories and State Guard staff, and to all state employes in classified Civil Service. The latter group will be given coverage starting July 1 of this year, while the others have already gone into effect.

Effective Sept. 1 of this year, the state will pay benefit claimants' counsel fees and printing costs on appeals to the courts if Unemployment Insurance Appeal Board decision favored claimant, except that if claimant appeals to Court of Appeals, allowance depends on court finding that appeal was "meritorius."

POLICE SAID the Marks car was damaged on its left front door and bumper, and the car driven by Everett had a damaged headlight, a rim missing, had paint marks from another car on the front fender and bumper and a strip of chrome missing from the right side.

A report at 8 p. m., said Mrs. Phillip Feinberg, of 98 Walnut street, Walden, had telephoned local police to inquire as to whether a stolen car had been recovered. She had been informed by state police, she said, that her car had apparently been struck by a stolen car, and she had been told it was recovered in Kingston.

Lt. Robert F. Murphy, of the local police said today that Everett's record has not been officially verified, but he has admitted three felonies.
